ROOSEVELT JR. URGES UNION OF "PEOPLE"

Labor, Housewives, Farmers, Vets Asked To Combat "Special Interests."

By The Associated Press

BOSTON, Oct. 16 — Franklin Delano Roosevelt Jr., called today for a union of labor, housewives, farmers and war veterans to win the next election away from what he termed a "servile congress intent on serving special interests."

The son of the late president told 600 delegates of CIO's national convention that "men like Senator Taft * * * are seeking to serve the food speculators, the commodity speculators and are seeking to bring about inflation * * *."

Roosevelt called "a real estate lobby the most ruthless lobby in Washington" and charged it with trying to prevent passage of the Taft-Ellendeer-Wagner bill to alleviate the veterans' housing storage.

In calling for unity, young Roosevelt said: "we, the people, don't have the organization, the money or the somewhat prejudiced element in the press of America of the special interests."

Unveils Memorial

Just before the address, CIO President Philip Murray unveiled a replica of the memorial plaque to the late President Roosevelt which is to be set in the CIO Memorial Children's wing of the Georgetown University hospital in Washington.

The former president's son appeared before the convention the day after a demonstration of overwhelming support on the part of the CIO for Secretary of State Marshall and the American foreign policy.

This is the No. 1 fact yesterday of the CIO convention so far.

It was demonstrated yesterday in one of the most violent debates heard at a CIO convention in the last six years.

The convention cheered constantly for right-wing speakers who shouted their support of American policy and fired criticism at Russian and Communist methods.

It was an obvious spanking for the CIO's extreme left wing, with President Philip Murray doing part of the spanking.

The loudest and longest roar of applause came when George Saldanzi of the textile workers said in Russia President Truman has been compared to a Hitler and then added: "He couldn't be a Hitler, because if he were a Hitler, Russia would work out a pact with him."

Marshall Speaks

Secretary Marshall himself addressed the convention earlier in the day. Murray called him "one of the world's greatest champions of peace."

Marshall spoke of the "urgent

MEANY, TOBIN WIN CONTROL OVER AFL

By The Associated Press

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 16—A Bronx plumber and a Boston coal wagon driver emerged today as the undisputed bosses of the American Federation of Labor convention.

Control of the convention for George Meany of the plumbers and Daniel J. Tobin of the teamsters carried with it virtual control of the 15-man policy-making executive council which will run the AFL's affairs from now until next fall, when the federation meets again.

As the convention drew to a close today, delegates admitted that the smoothly-operating machine of the 72-year-old Tobin and 53-year-old Meany was the big revelation of the 66th annual get-together of the labor group.

Together Meany and Tobin overwhelmed John L. Lewis and William L. Hutcheson with their votes. While Lewis created the fireworks with his effort to block what he called "dehydration" of the executive council, it was Hutcheson who suffered most. He and his carpenters have wielded the big stick in the Federation since 1915.

UMW Overwhelmed

Lewis and his United Mine Workers never had much of a chance to get support of the other delegates in their stand against signing non-Communist affidavits in an all-out defiance of the Taft-Hartley act. The other Federation leaders—even Hutcheson—favored complying with the affidavit requirement so the weaker unions could have access to the protective machinery of the national labor relations board.

Byrnes Says Russians Interested Chiefly in Reparations at Yalta

This is a serialization of James F. Byrnes' "Speaking Frankly" —six of fifteen chapters of the book published Oct. 15, 1947, by Harper & Brothers. Copyright, 1947, by James F. Byrnes Foundation (A Charitable Trust).

By JAMES F. BYRNES

THE Yalta Conference opened on Sunday, Feb. 4, 1945, on a rising tide of Allied victories. The German counteroffensive in the west had been stopped in the bloody snow of the Ardennes Forest and we were preparing to launch our drive across the Rhine. The Russians had begun the drive on Germany's eastern frontier that was to end in Berlin three months later. The situation was such that at one time President Roosevelt and Marshal Stalin had engaged in light banter as to whether they should wager that the Red Army would get Berlin before the American Army recaptured Manila.

Our chief objective for the conference was to secure agreement on the Dumbarton Oaks porposals for the creation of an international peace organization. But the rapid advance of our armies required also that urgent consideration be given to European political and military problems. It was natural, then, that the president, with the agreement of the other members, opened the conference with the suggestion to discuss "what we shall do with Germany."

Stalin Makes Wishes Known

Stalin immediately made it clear that he wanted to discuss the terms of the German surrender, the future form of the German state or states, reparations, and the allocation of a zone of occupation to France.

In the fall of 1944 the Soviet Union and the provisional government of France had entered into a treaty of friendship. It was immediately obvious at Yalta, however that the treaty and the friendly words exchanged over it by the diplomats had not changed in any degree Marshal Stalin's opinion on the contribution of France to the war. He thought France should play little part in the control of Germany, and stated that Yugoslavia and Poland were more entitled to consideration than France.

When Roosevelt and Churchill proposed that France be allotted a zone of occupation, Stalin agreed. But it was clear he agreed only because the French zone was to be taken out of the territory allotted to the United States and the United Kingdom. And he especially opposed giving France a representative on the Allied Control Council for Germany. He undoubtedly concurred in the opinion expressed to the president by Mr. Molotov that this should be done "only as a kindness to France and not because she is entitled to it."

Not Enthusiastic About France

"I am in favor of France being given a zone," Stalin declared, "but I cannot forget that in this war France opened the gates to the enemy." He maintained it would create difficulties to give France a zone of occupation and a representative on the Allied Control Council and refuse the same treatment to others who had fought more than France. He said France would soon demand that de Gaulle attend the Big Three's Conferences.

Churchill argued strongly in favor of France's being represented on the council. He said the British public would not understand if questions affecting France and the French zone were settled without her participation in the discussion. It did not follow, as Stalin had suggested, that France would demand de Gaulle's participation in the conferences of the Big Three, he added. And, in his best humor, Mr. Churchill said the conference was "a very exclusive club, the entrance fee being at least five million soldiers or the equivalent."

Stalin, however, feared there would be such a demand. He said General de Gaulle was "very unrealistic," and reiterated that even though France had not done much fighting in the war, yet de Gaulle has demanded equal rights with the Soviets, the British and the Americans, who have done the fighting."

No Argument by President

President Roosevelt did not take issue with Stalin or de Gaulle. The president had great admiration for France and its people but did not admire de Gaulle. On several occasions he referred to a conversation at Casablanca in which de Gaulle compared himself with Joan of Arc as the spiritual leader of France, and with Clemenceau as the political leader.

President Roosevelt's first opinion was not to insist upon giving France representation on the Allied Council if she were allotted a zone. As the argument proceeded however, the president said he wished to consider further that phase of the question and asked that action be delayed. The following day Mr. Hopkins, Averell Harriman, our ambassador to the Soviet Union, and I urged upon the president the view that France should be represented on the council, that they could not accept a zone without such representation, and that any other action would greatly humiliate them. The president finally reached the same conclusion, and he later succeeded in inducing Stalin to agree with him.

Russians Money-Minded

During all the consideration of the German question at Yalta, reparations were the chief interest of the Soviet delegation.

At the conference table Marshal Stalin sat between Mr. Molotov and I. M. Maisky, deputy commissar for foreign affairs. Maisky

3-DAY SEARCH FOR MISSING WOMAN FUTILE

Neighbors from Lexington, O., To Be Asked To Join in Hunt for Sanatorium Patient.

Three days have elapsed since a frail elderly woman disappeared from the Sawyer Sanatorium, White Oaks Farm leaving no traces whereby her family and officials could pursue a successful search.

Mrs. H. A. Palm, 69, of near Lexington, O., has not been found despite efforts of city and state police, Marion county and adjacent county sheriff's offices and her two sons H. W. Palm and Blake Palm who have been in Marion since Monday aiding in the search for their mother.

H. W. Palm announced that if no traces of his mother were uncovered by tonight a posse would be formed to conduct a detailed search which he hoped Sheriff LeRoy Retterer would lead personally.

Palm plans to put about 100 persons at the sheriff's disposal. The posse will comprise residents of Lexington, the community nearest his mother's home. The group is to meet at the sanatorium at 9:30 a. m.

Mrs. Palm left the sanatorium grounds about noon Monday, apparently unnoticed. Dr. Carl E. Sawyer, head of the sanatorium, said she had previously spoken about wanting to go home.

Dr. Sawyer reported that she had been seriously ill not more than eight weeks ago but had been improving rapidly. She had been able to be up and around for about four weeks. Plans had already been made with her family to return Mrs. Palm to Lexington Friday.

Last Seen at 12:15 p. m.

As near as can be determined at the sanatorium, a nurse was the last to see her before she left. The nurse picked up her lunch tray about 12:15 and shortly afterwards returned to give her medicine, only to find her gone. A search of the buildings and grounds uncovered no trace of her.

Dr. Sawyer informed the state patrol about 2 p. m. and her description was broadcast as a search was instigated. The Marion county sheriff's office and city police were next to be notified.

Her two sons, H. W. Palm, manager of the Greyhound Bus depot at Mansfield, and Blake Palm from Cleveland arrived Monday night. Since then they have checked on all relatives and family friends, questioned authorities and townspeople in combing area communities. No traces of their mother have been found. The two men are continuing their search today.

Also unavailing to date have been efforts of city and state police and the Marion county sheriff's office. Sheriff LeRoy Retterer yesterday again conducted a thorough search of the sana-

HURRICANE BLOWING SELF OUT IN GEORGIA

By The Associated Press

SAVANNAH, Ga., Oct. 16—A once howling tropical hurricane was only a whisper among south Georgia pines today after a damaging, footloose march which carried it across Florida's tip out into the Atlantic and back to pound at Georgia's coast.

The Caribbean-born storm left in its wake a trail of human discomfort and relatively minor property damage—uprooted trees, fallen power and telephone lines, leaky roofs, broken windows and twisted and torn signs.

Floods still covered rich truck farming areas in southern Florida around Miami and a heavy surf was still beating at the coast from Florida to South Carolina.

Neill McCord, 35-year-old Negro lumberjack of Thomaston, Ga., was killed when a tree crashed upon his cabin near Charleston, S. C.

After passing over southern Florida Sunday the hurricane was believed headed for the north Atlantic, but curved back and headed directly for Tybee island just off Savannah. Many of the residents there had gone to bed with no thought of a hurricane.

Fire sirens and the rush of men with flashlights through dark streets gave the alarm. Before water curled over the causeway leading to the mainland, most of the residents had escaped.

The damage at Savannah was estimated officially at $1,000,000. At Savannah Beach on Tybee, a resort playground, the damage was placed at $500,000.

Salvation Army Counts 60 Years Service To Community

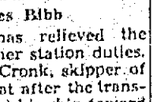
This is one of a series of articles dealing with the welfare and character building agencies which participate in the Marion Community Foundation drive opening next Monday. The articles explain the work and program of the agencies and their urgent need for support in the annual campaign.

* * *

With a background of 60 years' service to Marion community, the Salvation Army this year launched its most ambitious program to date—a community playground at the rear of the citadel at 141 North Prospect street.

While preparations for the playground delayed its opening until well into the summer, in the first 21 days it was open it drew an attendance of 1,475 boys and girls to the swings, teetertotters, horizontal bar, basketball, volleyball, and badminton courts, hopscotch, shuffleboard, and other games.

In addition, they enjoyed an out-door oven built at one corner of the grounds for wiener, hamburg, and marshmallow roasts.



Children in Marion's downtown area and from all sections of the city were welcomed to the playground daily, except Sunday, and playground supervisors relieved parents of any anxiety as to their children's welfare.

Today was set for the closing of the playground, but if the pleasant fall weather continues the recreation spot will continue to be open for after-school and Saturday play. It is planned that next year the playground will open with the start of school vacation and will be operated until Labor Day.

During daytime hours the playground has been a completely community project, free to all children. Evening hours have been reserved for Salvation Army groups, including the Army's Boy Scout troop, Torchbearers, Crusaders, Cub Scouts, Home League and Corps Cadets.

In looking ahead to the 1948 playground program, Army officials have discussed the possibility of organizing both indoor and outdoor hobby classes. These classes, in charge of a young people's worker, could be used to advantage in keeping children and young people interested and working.

Depend on Fund

Continuation of the playground as well as all other activities of the Salvation Army will be made possible by a budget of $8,000 in the Foundation program of 1948.

The program for young people covers a wide range of interests for children of all ages and in a report covering the 10 months from November through August attendance figures show that the program is accepted with enthusiasm.

Attendance totaled 577 in 30 Boy Scout Troop meetings held during the period and in the Cub Scouts of boys from 9 to 12 years of age there was a total attendance of 806 at 30 meetings.

The Army's Junior Legion is a group of boys and girls from 6 through 11 years of age who meet once a week for handicraft work, an illustrated Bible story, singing, and games. This popular unit held 30 classes which drew a total attendance of 1,278.

The Corps Cadets are young people 12 years and older who meet weekly to study the Bible and Salvation Army doctrine and procedure, and the Torchbearers and Crusaders have a spiritual, educational, and recreational program for young people 12 to 30 years of age.

Serves Many Persons

Sunday school classes at the citadel drew a total of 5,258 young people, attendance records show. To keep the Sunday school program at a high level of interest and information, the Army conducts a Company Guard Training Class which is a special group studying Sunday school lessons and techniques.

To further the teaching of the Bible to young people, a Daily Vacation Bible School was conducted during the summer, and in 10 classes attracted a total of 678 children.

While the Salvation Army is deeply interested in the welfare and happiness of children and young people, this Foundation agency also carries on a varied program for adults of the community.

During the 10-month period Army workers conducted 102 street services and 225 indoor services, with a total attendance of 7,410, and made 1,671 visits to homes.

More than 400 transients received assistance at the citadel, including 20 women and 60 children. Two hundred thirty-three meals were served under the Army's Transient Welfare Program, and 74 persons found lodging at the citadel. Transportation was provided for seven persons and a total of 208 garments and pairs of shoes went to transients in need of assistance.

Welfare Program

The Army's local welfare program for the 10 months provided these services to residents of Marion community:

Eighty-five orders for groceries; 1,531 articles of new and used clothing; 180 pairs of new and used shoes; three orders for fuel; assistance to 125 families, and 2,286 interviews with men and women seeking guidance in solving problems.

Rounding out the Army's broad program of assistance, workers made monthly visits to the city's penal institutions and conducted religious services, and visited 200 patients in hospital and clinics, distributing useful articles.

Officers in charge of the Army's work in Marion are familiar with the local problems through the years of service here.

Adjutant Mary Nisiewicz came to Marion in October of 1943 to take charge of the Army's activities, and in June of the next year Capt. Mary Davis was assigned here. Lieut. Betty Jean Williman assumed her duties in June of this year.

A. T. Allen is chairman of the advisory board of Marion men and women who assist the Army.

C. Z. Zachman is honorary chairman, Cecil Gabler serves as vice chairman, Miss Edna Dutton is secretary, and Ralph C. Hare is treasurer of the board.

Others on the board are Mrs. F. S. Baber, C. O. Brown, John H. Clark, Fred C. Cory, Rev. H. W. Faulkner, Harold J. Grigsby, Cutler McCrew, Rex H. Robinson, C. J. Watson, and Elmer L. Weimer.

SHIP PERFORMS 2ND MISSION

Cutter Carrying Plane Survivors Stops To Take Ill Seaman Aboard.

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Oct. 16—The Coast Guard cutter Bibb, speeding toward Boston with 69 persons rescued from a huge ditched flying boat in mid-Atlantic, performed another mercy mission at dawn today by removing an ill seaman from a sister cutter.

The Bibb advised Coast Guard headquarters it had taken aboard a seaman ill with appendicitis from the cutter Duane. Because of heavy seas, the Bibb's arrival time in Boston is uncertain, the message added.

The Bibb previously had fought an heroic battle against heaving seas to remove the passengers and crew of the giant plane, the Bermuda Flying Queen.

Relieves Bibb

The Duane has relieved the Bibb of its weather station duties.

Capt. Paul B. Cronk, skipper of the Bibb, said that after the transfer he would head his ship toward Boston to land the rescued persons who, he reported, were none the worse for their harrowing experience.

The airliner, its fuel supply depleted, was forced down in the gale-whipped North Atlantic Tuesday. Using rafts and lifeboats the Bibb's seamen fought mountainous waves and high winds to remove the plane's occupants in what naval circles hailed as one of the sea's great rescue operations.

Plane Sunk

After the rescue, the abandoned flying boat was sunk by the Bibb's guns as a menace to navigation.

Meanwhile, the civil aeronautics board said in Washington that it was investigating the flight of the plane, operated by American International Airways, to determine whether it violated a new regulation prohibiting international air passenger operations by non-certificated carriers.

STASSEN, TAFT HEAD PROGRAM

Two Presidential Hopefuls To Lead Columbus Discussion Period Tonight.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 16—Two potential presidential candidates, Sen. Robert A. Taft and former Gov. Harold E. Stassen of Minnesota, will discuss national issues before 1,000 Ohio Republican women leaders here tonight.

Stassen, the only avowed candidate for the Republican presidential nomination, comes here more in the role of an ambassador of friendship and good will than a candidate seeking delegates.

The Ohio delegation already is pledged to Taft, who last night declared in Cincinnati that he would announce "sometime next week" whether he would seek the Republican presidential nomination. Taft's latest comment about his candidacy followed a conference with Rep. Clarence J. Brown (R-Ohio), his chief political advisor at present. Taft said "everything under the sun" was discussed.

Pleasantries Expected

Taft also remarked that he intended to say some "very pleasant things about Stassen in welcoming him to Ohio today, the second time the two have appeared together in recent weeks. They discussed national issues on the same platform at Des Moines, Iowa, when Taft was returning from his western sentiment-sampling tour.

Taft declined comment about a publicity firm's announcement from Chicago that it had been hired to work for the nomination of both himself and Walter P. Reuther, CIO leader, for president and vice president on the Republican ticket next year. Reuther termed the announcement "part of a smear campaign."

Brown will lead the speaking tonight at the dinner meeting of the Ohio Federation of Republican Women's organization closing its annual fall conference. He will be followed by Stassen and then Senator Taft.

Sessions of the women's organization opened with a route business session, followed this afternoon by a speech making session, featuring Mrs. Martha Taft, wife of the senator.

Mrs. Katherine Kennedy Brown of Dayton, president of the organization and Ohio's national committeewoman presided.

A number of members of the Marion County Republican Women's club are joining others in the state at the meeting of the Ohio Federation of Republican Women's Organizations which opens today at the Neil House in Columbus.

COMMUNITY FUND SHARES BOUGHT BY AUTO DEALERS

Five shares in the Marion Community Chest fund were purchased by vote of the Marion Automobile Dealers Association at a meeting Monday night.

About 15 auto dealers present at the Harding Hotel meeting voted to donate $50 to the Community Chest fund.

The automobile dealers discussed the state gasoline tax amendment which will come up for a vote Nov. 4 and took a stand for the passage of the bill. The new bill calls for expenditure of gasoline tax money on highways and city street improvement.

WILLIAM WEIST FATALLY HURT NEAR LARUE

Dies in Hospital at Kenton After Car Collides with Truck.

William Phillip Weist, 68, of near LaRue, died in Kenton Antonio hospital at 6 p. m. yesterday of injuries suffered when his car crashed into a truck at the junction of route 37 and Hepburn road near LaRue yesterday afternoon.

His wife, Mrs. Susie Weist, 76, was seriously injured in the accident, and her condition was reported "critical" by authorities at the hospital at noon today.

Hospital authorities had not expected Mrs. Weist to live through the night. Her left hip was crushed in the accident, and her right leg was broken. She suffered internal injuries. Mr. Weist died of internal injuries.

Patrol Report

According to the state highway patrol, the Weist car, going west on the county road, ran into the rear side of the truck, going north on route 37 at 3 p. m. Both the elderly couple's car and the truck overturned.

Mr. Weist was pinned under the wreckage of his car. Mrs. Weist remained in the car. The car, an old model, was badly damaged.

The van type truck overturned on its side. It was badly damaged. Mr. Clement suffered a cut forehead and a leg injury. He was treated by a LaRue physician.

Mr. and Mrs. Weist were rushed to Antonio hospital in a Boyd and Uncapher ambulance after the accident. Mr. Weist was pulled from the wreckage by J. Lewis Hafer and Donald Virden of LaRue who had stopped at the scene of the accident.

The Weists were enroute home from a public sale they had attended near LaRue. Their farm home is on county road 19 just across the Hardin county line.

Taken to Kenton Hospital

The truck is owned by Walter Linke of Kenton. It was loaded with auto parts and tools.

Mr. Weist's body was taken from the Kenton hospital to the Ford Funeral home in LaRue.

He is survived by his widow, a daughter, Mrs. Harry Miller, of near Marion, and seven grandchildren, Mrs. Edward Neidhart, of near Marion, Willard Miller in the Army Air Corps, and Susan, Barbara Ruth, Harry, John and Juanita Miller at home. Two sisters survive him, Mrs. N. S. Virden of LaRue, and Mrs. George Dills of Fort Wayne, Ind.

Mr. Weist was born in Richland township, Marion county, on April 27, 1867. His father, Philip, was born in Boden, Germany. His mother, Mrs. Mary Wilt Weist, was born in Richland township. He married Susie McWade in 1904. He had lived in Hardin county near the Marion border all his life. He was a retired farmer.

MANSFIELD KIDNAP SUSPECT CHARGED

By The Associated Press

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Oct. 16—Chester L. Gasunas, 22, of Hanover, Mass., today awaited federal court arraignment on a charge of violating the Lindbergh law in the alleged kidnaping of a Mansfield, O., taxicab driver last July.

Gasunas was brought here yesterday from the Steuben county jail at Bath, N. Y., where he had been held since July 10 for trial on a first degree robbery charge.

U. S. Deputy Marshal Martin Herbst said Gasunas forced cab driver George Wade, 22, at gunpoint to drive him from Mansfield to Coudersport, Pa., as part of what Herbst termed "an eight-hour, one-man crime wave."

At Coudersport, Herbst said, Gasunas held up Deputy Sheriff Carl Butler, when Butler stopped the taxi "on suspicion." Gasunas took the deputy's badge, car keys to the court house watch and $65, Herbst said.

Gasunas was arrested by state police at Silver Springs, N. Y., after a $125 holdup at a Hornell clothing store. He was indicted last month on a first degree robbery charge in connection with the Hornell holdup. The federal warrant already had been filed at Scranton, Pa., however.

Moose Lodge Plans For Fish Fry Oct. 22

Five applications for membership were voted on and accepted at a meeting of the Moose Lodge on Tuesday night. Report was made of a meeting of the Moose at Willard Oct. 12 and announcement was made of the coming meeting of the Legion Nov. 16 at Norwalk.

Chester Ireland was named chairman of the lodge fish fry slated for Oct. 22 at Moose Hall for members, their wives and prospective members. Plans were announced for a Halloween observance Oct. 29 with costumes and dancing. Prizes are to be awarded the best dressed couple, single man, single woman and child. Albert Deitsch was named chairman.

CANCER CONTROL DONATION

GALION, Oct. 15 — Charles Hinckley, Crawford county president, and Mrs. Harvey Huy, County Commander, of the American Cancer Society attended the statewide meeting in Columbus Tuesday and Wednesday. The meeting is a training conference for field army workers from the 88 counties of the state. At a recent meeting of the Crawford county association, $800 was voted to the Galion City hospital for a microtome and bi-focal microscope for use in detection of cancer, Hinckley said today.

NAVY CLUB TO SHOW CAPTURED BOAT HERE

Exhibit To Be at Courthouse Saturday, Sunday.

The Navy club of Marion in collaboration with its national organization will place on display one of their mobile exhibits, on the Main street side of the courthouse, Saturday and Sunday, Oct. 18 and 19.

Local club officials announced that the showing of this exhibit will usher in Navy Club Week which will be featured also by the annual Anchor Day tag sale Friday and Saturday, Oct. 24 and 25, and climaxed by the observance of Navy Day on Oct. 27.

There will be no admission charge to the exhibit, however voluntary donations will be accepted. The funds so raised will be used by the national organization to carry on their extensive welfare and rehabilitation program.

The feature of the exhibit is a captured Japanese suicide PT boat. This type boat was known in Japan as the Shinyotie, which translated means "earth rocking boat." It is 16 feet long and is powered by a Japanese built six cylinder engine of American design, and is capable of a speed of as high as 50 knots per hour. In the bow was placed a 1500 pound anti-submarine depth bomb, rigged with a contact head, and it was the pilot's job to ram an enemy vessel, whereupon he would immediately join his ancesters and become a national hero.

The advent of the atom bomb largely nullified this fanatic arrangement, since it was engineered for home island defense. This PT boat was captured intact at Amami O'Shima, in the Ryukus Islands, and was brought to this country by the Navy for tests and observation. It is one of six captured enemy vessels loaned to the Navy Club by the Navy.

Several smaller souvenirs are included in the exhibit, such as the sword of the infamous Capt. Mikonite, who commanded the Marine detachment on Amami O'Shima, and who was executed for atrocities against Chinese and American troops; the famous Japanese sniper's air rifle, and the "burp-gun" one of the fastest firing small weapons known.

The exhibit will be open from 9:30 a. m. to 9:30 p. m.

OLD TIMERS' CLUB FORMED

Veteran Cooler Employes Organize in Meeting at Hotel Harding.

First steps toward organization of an Old Timers club made up of officials and employes of Universal Cooler Division of International Detrola Corporation who have 10 years or more service with the company were taken at a dinner meeting Tuesday night in the Marion club rooms at Hotel Harding. Many of those eligible have up to 19 years service. Universal Cooler was organized in 1922 and is celebrating its twenty-fifth anniversary this year.

S. T. Rose, the company's director of industrial relations, served as temporary chairman while the group discussed its plans, objectives and organizational procedures. Bonar Thompson, Dan Medici, T. S. Pendergast, Harold Roat and Theodore Beresford were elected to submit a constitution and by-laws at a meeting to be held in two weeks at the company plant.

In a round-table discussion of plans among the 25 persons at the dinner, the group indicated it wants to combine business and pleasure in meetings to be held from time to time. In presenting the suggestion for the Old Timers' club, F. S. McNeal, vice president and general manager, emphasized that the club was to "run its own affairs" and do exactly what it wanted, adding that he saw no reason to expect the group to do more than have social activities.

Favor Discussion

Several members, in later discussion, said they felt some business discussion should be part of the program because the collective experience of the old timers should be able to help solve problems and that the exchange of ideas and suggestions during "shop talk" sessions should be interesting and helpful for all members. They also pointed out their desire to be of any possible service in helping newer members of the Universal Cooler family.

Mr. McNeal, in explaining the minimum 10-year service requirement necessary for membership in the group, pointed out that the refrigeration industry is comparatively new and that service records in this industry naturally would not compare in length with more traditional industries. He explained the idea to give the group an opportunity to organize had been discussed for several months, largely as a means of showing recognition to the persons who over a period of years have helped build the company to its present prominence in the refrigeration industry.

Quarter Century Mark

Mr. Rose, in opening the meeting, pointed out that Universal Cooler is celebrating its twenty-fifth anniversary this year and that the charter membership list of the Old Timers' club represents 366 years of experience. All of the charter membership group were with the company when it moved to Marion from Detroit in 1940. In 1950, the membership list is expected to start growing rapidly as native-Marion employes start becoming eligible.

Persons who gave brief talks in the preliminary discussions included D. Robertson, president and general manager of Universal Cooler Co. of Canada, Ltd., W. W. Higham, director of engineering, Bonar Thompson, T. S. Pendergast, assistant to the general manager, Dan Medici and Walter Sobas, superintendent of the Bellefontaine plant.

The charter membership eligibility list includes Mr. McNeal, Mr. Pendergast, Mr. Higham, Mr. Thompson, Mr. Medici, Mr. Sobas, Forest E. Flockencier, Walter L. LaRue, Watson Y. Whitman, Arthur Bryant, Clarence Keeton, Andrew D. Stewart, Mr. Roat, Joseph W. Montroy, George Neef, Stephan Hanovich, Peter Joyce, Joseph Bourgoin, Mr. Beresford, Siegfried Kline, John Zant, Archie Maxwell, George Barrow, Herbert B. Gray, Albert E. Cadwell, Thomas Soule, Victor Papp and Oscar Ridenour.

CITED FOR SAFETY

BUCYRUS, Oct. 16—Special recognition for plant safety has been given the W. A. Riddell corporation as a result of the record established during the first nine months of 1947. Only one worker drew state compensation for injury during the nine months period, the injury occurring at the Warco plant which employes 172 workers.

SERVICE AT LARUE

Meetings of organizations of the LaRue Methodist church next week include sessions of the Friendship class and the G.S.C.S., both Tuesday night, and of the In His Name circle Wednesday night.

The saddest cry on wintry night:

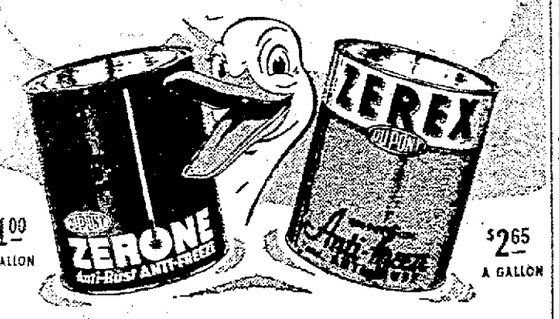
Play it safe—get one of these
DU PONT brands of anti-freeze!



$1.00 A GALLON $2.65 A GALLON

"ZERONE" GIVES YOU safe anti-freeze protection at minimum cost. It's made from the most efficient of all known safe anti-freeze materials: three quarts of "Zerone"* will do the work of four quarts of most other types of anti-freeze. "Zerone" needs only an occasional check-up. It improves cooling—retards rust and corrosion—keeps a clean cooling system clean. Get "Zerone"—the dollar brand in most demand.

"ZEREX" GIVES YOU winter-long protection. It's non-evaporating—one filling lasts all winter in a properly operating cooling system. Like "Zerone," "Zerex"* contains a special chemical inhibitor with a high "alkaline reserve" that gives long-time protection against corrosion. "Zerex" won't attack rubber, seep from tight cooling systems, or clog radiators. There's no better anti-freeze.

HIGH MASS TO OPEN 40 HOURS DEVOTION

Service Friday at 8 A. M. To Start Worship Period.

A solemn high mass at 8 a. m. Friday will mark the opening of Forty Hours Devotion in St. Mary Catholic church. The service will close with solemn benediction on Sunday afternoon and attending will be delegates and visitors to the meeting of the Western deanery of the Columbus diocesan council, National Council of Catholic Women who will meet here Sunday afternoon.

Following the mass tomorrow morning the Blessed Sacrament will be exposed for adoration throughout the day and the Holy Hour, and sermon will be at 7:30 o'clock Friday night. The 8 o'clock mass Saturday morning will be offered for peace and throughout the day the faithful will visit the church in adoration of the Blessed Sacrament. There will be benediction at 7:30 o'clock Saturday night and the solemn closing will be at 5 o'clock Sunday afternoon.

Rev. Robert Bayer, O. M. C., of the faculty of Our Lady of Carey seminary at Carey, will deliver the sermon Friday night.

Councils throughout the Western deanery will meet at 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon in Moira hall. Speaker for the meeting will be Rev. Paul O'Day, professor at St. Charles seminary in Columbus who will discuss Parent-Teacher activities. Present for the meeting also will be Rev. Ronald Winel of Columbus, diocesan moderator of the National Council of Catholic Women. The meeting will be preceded by a board meeting at 2 p. m.

Following the solemn benediction the visiting women and women of St. Mary parish will join for a buffet supper at which the Marion council members will be hostesses, at 6 o'clock in Moira hall.

Officers of the Marion council are Mrs. Mary Maxwell, president, Mrs. Genevieve McKinney, vice president, Mrs. Edward T. Huber, secretary, and Mrs. Mercedes Byrnes, treasurer. Miss Margaret Lawler is chairman of the hospitality committee for Sunday's meeting, Mrs. L. K. McGinnis, registration chairman and Miss Edna Durton, publicity.

Old Time Religion Marks Revival Service

When Old Time Religion night was observed at the revival service of Calvary Evangelical United Brethren church Wednesday night, families who were present and sat together were given special recognition. Rev. Lewis Naumann of Canton preached on "Covered Sin."

Families with all members present were given choice of receiving a Bible or a copy of the new discipline of the church and were awarded a copy of "How To Conduct Family Worship at the Table. Special mention was made of Rev. R. W. Faulkner's family of five present and of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Coleman and two daughters, only entire family of four members present. H. J. Klinefelter offered prayer at the beginning of the service. Tonight will be ladies' night.

For his Scripture, Rev. Naumann read passages from Psalm 32 and from the twenty-eighth chapter of Proverbs. In his message he stated "Sin seeks and demands a covering. Sin is hushed and subdued because God hates it. Sometimes we try to protect people, try to think they are honest. This old world knows when a fellow is trying to cover sin with sin and trying to make believe he is a Christian. When we try to cover sin with sin there is disaster in it. Hypocrisy is a covering for sin."

305 TO BE CONFIRMED

First Prize for Invective

TO JOHN L. LEWIS, for his slurring remark that AFL lacked a head on the showdown that stripped him of his vice presidency—"its ne k has just grown up and haired over"—goes first prize for homegrown invective.

No one can pile it on like Mr. Lewis when he gets rolling. No one outside the labor unions can say things half so nasty about the people who run them as he can say when he gets a mad on. When King John roars and tosses his mane it's time to look out.

It's time to look out right now. The last time it was this way, some 12 years ago, Mr. Lewis started the CIO and established dual unionism in the United States. This time, with CIO having abandoned him in 1940 and AFL apparently in a mood to abandon him in 1947, he may turn to triple unionism to find a field in which his great talent for invective, among other things, can be exercised without making someone sore.

"Eat Less, Feel Better"

CANDIDATE STASSEN has suggested that the average American cut 15 per cent off his diet to improve his health, bring down food prices and increase supplies for Europe.

It's true that many Americans overeat, especially those in sedentary jobs. Many of us do nothing more strenuous in the course of a day than open garage doors or slam down the telephone after getting a wrong number.

Gout is rare nowadays but almost one per cent of our population suffers from diabetes, a disease frequently induced by rich diets. In Germany after World War I diabetes was non-existent, as it doubtless is today in many hard-hit countries.

Any person who is overweight or the possessor of more than one chin would do well to examine his calorie intake. Gourmandizing once was harmful only to the individual; today it takes the food out of mouths of others who need it.

Proprietors of public eating places should examine more closely their customers' food acceptance habits; and by the same token customers should inform waiters of their needs so that no more is brought than will be eaten.

Twenty-five per cent of the food America raises is lost through spoilage before it reaches the table. No estimate can be made on how much is cooked, only to go for naught because of jaded appetites or poorly-planned menus.

Phantom of the Fields

THIS is the season when our craftiest hunters roam the fields and woods in pursuit of the woodcock, that most elusive of game birds. The Ohio season extends through Oct. 24, with a limit of four birds a day, but it's a lucky hunter who can bag four woodcocks. Many a hunter wise in woodlore goes all season without even spotting one.

Woodcocks are migrating now and the fortunate hunter may find himself in the midst of a flight which has settled to rest. Even then he must be an expert stalker and a fine marksman to get a bead on the wary, swift birds.

As a table delicacy the woodcock is prized. Gourmets among hunters say they compare favorable with Scotch grouse. The hunter who gets his share of woodcock is double rewarded: he has bagged a quarry which tested his skill and he has a rare delicacy for his table.

Facts Harder Than Steel

CHRYSLER assembly lines in the Detroit area are down, latest sign of a steel shortage that has baffled production managers in the automobile industry since the end of the war.

Demand for steel by all industries has kept production at a peak since the beginning of war production—at first to catch up to war orders, later to catch up to deferred peacetime demand.

It was bound to happen sooner or later that critics of the steel producers' policies would begin to wonder if their production capacity was being enlarged rapidly enough to serve the national interest, or if natural expansion was being inhibited, perhaps, to serve the financial interest of the owners of the steel industry.

However, all questions to this effect have been howled down by the industry's spokesmen, who questioned not only the critics' good sense but also their good faith. It has made an interesting situation.

It is difficult, nevertheless, to howl down a fact in the automobile industry. The Chrysler shutdown is not an isolated instance, but a typical instance. The public finds it hard to believe that producers of goods made of steel are part of a conspiracy to embarrass the steel industry with demands for more production than the industry says is practical.

Scanning the Record

By George E. Sokolsky

Sokolsky Finds Flaws in "Save Food" Propaganda.

THE essential task of the Luckman committee is to conduct a propaganda for voluntary reduction of food consumption by Americans so that more can be shipped abroad. Last year, this country exported 18,000,000 tons of food. American crops this year do not warrant shipments of that size. The Luckman plan is to stretch our crop so that exports abroad would be ample.

When such phrases as "waste less" are used, they approach the insult, for at current prices, few homes can afford to waste anything knowingly. In fact, except for hotels and restaurants which must include a margin of waste, the American garbage can contains little that can actually be saved. Nevertheless, it is true that few human beings require 2,500 calories a day. Most of us would be healthier on 2,500 calories; some could diet to their advantage on 1,000 calories a day. The Luckman committee might even succeed in reducing the number of diabetics in this country by restoring the cult of skinniness which was once so popular—before it became stylish again to show curves.

Source of Obesity

But obesity is not a product of meat, chicken and eggs; just as Mr. Luckman's soap is not made of protein. Obesity usually comes from eating starches, fats, sugar, candy, ice cream, pastries, pies and drinking beer, sweetened waters and all that sort of thing. I looked at the diet lists given me, from time to time, to keep my weight from reaching gargantuan proportions and actually it says to eat more meat and chicken and less of all the things that are not included in the voluntary "eat-less." The theory that grain is saved for Europe by not eating eggs in America requires scientific and statistical substantiation. It sounds like huckster's dope. It is a reversion to scare advertising.

On the other hand, I go into a restaurant and they flash Dutch and Czechoslovakian beer, which is a cereal product. The Dutch beer, I never particularly cared for—that is a matter of taste—but in the days when I used to enjoy a glass of beer—before my calories were reduced—I liked the Pilsner brew. It is good beer, but we have some in this country that is equally good. As I am not permitted to drink beer on account of its propensity to double the chin and other parts, it all makes little difference.

However, how can any one, in conscience, justify shipping beer from Czechoslovakia to the United States and then ask Americans to eat less so that grain may be shipped to Czechoslovakia to be used to make beer? Such shipments cannot be sustained by logic or conscience. Until I see that no grain products are imported from Europe to be sold in the American market, I shall pay not the slightest attention to Mr. Luckman's propaganda.

What It Means

When American distillers are asked to take a vacation from production and grain is exported to produce scotch whisky, it means literally that American production, labor and capital investment are being subordinated to Great Britain's need for dollars; that is, American production is reduced to increase the market for British goods. I think that as long as that goes on, I shall reject my doctor's advice on calories and I shall follow my conscience, which tells me to consume all the carbohydrates I can.

My heart bleeds for the starving anywhere, but my instincts resent the kind of trickery involved in the beer and whisky racket. So far as Pilsener is concerned, I do not see why we should directly or indirectly contribute anything to Czechoslovakia. That country chose to join Soviet Russia against the United States; let them get grain from Russia and sell their brew to Stalin. They made the choice; let them swallow it.

I refuse to buy anything from behind the iron curtain—caviar or Pilsener beer. As for dieting—when the United States distributes its charities directly to hungry people, I am willing to go on 800 calories a day—but not on any other plan.

Just a Minute

A New Best Seller —Forever Gollum?

Bud Gollum, acquitted on charges of murdering his fiance's parents, has been offered a scholarship by a university and $500 a week contract by a burlesque theater.

Whatever our critics may say, this is still the land of opportunity. Where else could a young man with a desire for knowledge have such a remarkable choice?

The scholarship comes as a surprise. But, his trial having attracted so many spectators, it was to be expected that young Mr. Gollum would be offered an opportunity to star in conventional burlesque.

Yes sir, Bud's trial had everything . . . including scouts from worried Ringling Brothers.

Gollum is now at liberty in every sense of the word, having been given his freedom by a jury and the gate by his girl friend. The latter, incidentally, has been acquitted of the state's charges that she was a self-made orphan.

Bud is reported in no hurry to accept any of his offers, and understandably so. If his jailhouse love-notes are any criterion, the lad has a future in the field of modern fiction.

New Taft-Hartley Situation

By Mark Sullivan

WASHINGTON, Oct. 16—What happened in Washington last week about interpretation of the Taft-Hartley Labor act carries that act, the relation of labor to it, and the whole labor situation into a changed stage.

Because the point involved in the present action has been and is highly controversial—the requirement that officials of labor unions sign a non-Communist affidavit—discussion following the action has predicted further strife. A sounder assumption would be that the present action makes for more orderly and more widespread enforcement of the law, and larger acceptance of the law by labor.

An extremely important effect of the action is that it increases the standing of workers as workers, and of local unions, as against the power and status of labor leaders, especially those in the top level of the great national labor organizations. This, rather more than anything else, was a central purpose of congress in enacting the law. When advocates of the act said it was a "Bill of Rights" for the worker, they were not making a mere self-serving argument. That is what the law was meant to be. And the present development furthers that purpose greatly.

There are three levels of labor unions—the "local" in a plant or city or section, the intermedite, industry-wide unions, and at the top the two great labor organizations, AFL and CIO.

Provisions for Affidavits

The Taft-Hartley law provided that the government agency for enforcing the law, the national labor relations board, should refuse to receive an application from any union for an election to be conducted by the board unless the board has before it "an affidavit executed . . . by each officer of such labor organization and the officers of any national or international labor organization of which it is an affiliate or constituent unit, that he is not a member of the Communist party."

The "general counsel" of NLRB, Robert N. Denham—who actually has a much higher status than his title implies—he is administrator of the law—held that officials of all three levels of unions must sign the non-Communist affidavit. On appeal, the new five-man NLRB—which in the new law is restricted to the status of a court—held that the requirement of the non-Communist affidavit does not apply to top-level officials, those of CIO or AFL. This interpretation by the board was agreed to by General Counsel Denham and taken by him as the official interpretation of the law. All was done in a spirit of amenity and mutual good feeling which, taking place within an important government agency, is itself, a wholesome thing.

Situation Changed

The earlier interpretation by General Counsel Denham meant that every local union within AFL or CIO would be deprived of access to NLRB by refusal or failure of any one official of these top organizations to make the non-Communist affidavit. In effect the power and discipline of top-level officials over local unions was increased. But the new interpretation means that when the non-Communist affidavit has been signed by the officials of any local union, and by officials of the intermediate industry-wide union, the local union can have access to NLRB, regardless of CIO or AFL.

Whether top-level officials, in AFL and CIO, sign the non-Communist affidavits or not, is now a matter of diminished importance. Many in each organization are willing to sign, but all could be frustrated by one. Some of the recalcitrant can still make difficulty, for, in addition to being officials of CIO or AFL, they are also officials of the intermediate industry-wide unions. As such they can still stand in the way of local unions getting access to NLRB. But to take this stand would be dangerous to their positions and power. In order to bypass them, local unions would be likely to act on their own.

Reveille for Revelers

By Joseph Alsop

PARIS, Oct. 16—From the vantage point of France, the United States has the aspect of a vast communal fair or feast rather like the revels the old Flemish painters liked to depict. All are intent upon the good things spread before them. All are greedy to drink down the good seemingly endlessly poured out for them. And thus all are blind to the specter lurking like a dark cloud upon the bright horizon.

In these reports from Europe, the major emphasis has been placed, as it should be placed, upon the political and strategic threats arising from the European economic crisis. But it is now time to point out that the danger is also economic—that if we continue to indulge our weakness for half measures, for being too little and too late, the result is likely to sweep from our own tables all the good things, all the good cheer which we are so complacently enjoying. In Paris, even more than in Rome, the possibility is evident of a worldwide crash more shattering, more irreversible and more certain to engulf the United States in the end than the world crash of the Hoover years.

It is repetitious but needful to begin by saying that in France, as in Italy, the trouble arises from a monthly trading deficit with the rest of the world which the French no longer have the dollars, gold or credits to cover. Whereas in Italy the deficit is between $45 and $55 millions per month, it is about $120 millions monthly or a little more in France.

Dollars Needed.

Moreover, this is a dollar deficit in the strictest sense. With the soft money areas of the world, France's trade is currently in favorable balance. But, like Italy, she can only get wheat to feed her people, coal, most of her petroleum, certain raw materials and special equipment for her factories, by laying dollars or gold on the line. There is hardly a nation left in the world, except the United States, that can pay for French goods with dollars. American purchases in France are relatively trivial. And since France, again like Italy, can only get coal and wheat for dollars, the French economy simply cannot operate at all without dollar loans to cover the monthly deficits for the present.

This is the important thing to understand. The commodities bought with dollars are so vital that without them, not merely France's trade with us, but the whole of France's economic life will come to an almost dead stop. Obviously this must occur, if there is only half enough bread for the people and half enough coal for the factories.

What is worse, the process will by no means end there. If the economic life of France and Italy grinds to a stop, the British, the South Americans, the people of the Benelux countries, the Mexicans, the Canadians and the rest, will be unable either to sell to or buy from France and Italy. Thus these precarious economies will also be knocked out of kilter. The economic disease will spread like a new black death, carrying with it always the same hunger and the same social disruption.

Not Immune.

Even if such matters had been understood in the seventeenth century, the British in their distant island would no doubt have thought themselves immune when the great European epidemic of the bubonic plague first declared itself in distant Russia. But they were not. No more shall we be immune from this new economic plague if we permit it to gain impetus.

Canada, our neighbor and best trading partner, is already beginning to suffer from the dollar shortage, as are Mexico and all of South America. Everywhere our exports are in imminent danger. Foolish Americans say that exports are only 10 or 12 per cent of our total business. But who supposes that with a serious depression across the border in Canada, Detroit will be immune? Who can forget the obvious case of depression neurosis that affects many leaders of American business in mid-boom? Does not remember that even Hoover called the last crash a world trouble? Who is so silly, finally, as to discount the psychological effect on American business of the ghastly panorama of the whole rest of the western world involved in chaos, and every kind of political danger lurking in the ruins?

President Truman and the others who are nervously debating half measures of remedy in Washington must certainly have all this in mind. But half measures are not enough. France, again like Italy, is in a fairly advanced stage of monetary inflation.

Danger in Delay.

Even now the French government, hampered though it is by a lack of authority, has requested the brilliant Jean Monnet to prepare a plan of national stabilization. The outlines of a wise and decisive stabilization plan are already visible, but inflation will become completely uncontrollable before stabilization can begin, if there are to be heavy cuts in the bread ration and widespread unemployment. And this will be inevitable if we go on telling the French, "Grin and bear it and we shall help you eight months from now." In this event, the crash will come anyway. And we too shall pay in the end for our own folly.

Plan Charity Fund

Breakfast in Bed

By Truman Twill

We came across a yellowed clipping recen saved because it contained this memora passage about marital happiness:

"As the decades of marriage go by and memories of moonlight and roses fade it is di cult, amid the complexities of life, for two peo to have that same serenity they had when h piness was theirs alone on earth. Yet, ove simple a thing as a cup of coffee, we h snatched restorative moments of serenity, m ments which give us strength to face anot jangling day of noisy youngsters, ringing pho bounding budgets, upturned radios . . . We d recall how it started, but we have a pleasant irregular custom of one serving the other wit cup of coffee in bed before the day begi (Richard Crandell in The New York Her Tribune.)

The Twillery had instituted the breakfast-bed custom before this clipping came to ha but finding it is a reminder that no breakfast bed are served any more. It's too bad beca the thing worked out fine. In fact, it had reac the point where the old man could bleat pla tively that he'd like to have breakfast in bed maybe get it.

Birthdays, anniversaries, little triumphs, h days that didn't fall on Sundays and Sund themselves were the common occasions. As of as not, there would be a flower on the breakf tray if it was summertime. Until disaster stru a special coffee flask holding three cups used accompany the hot toast and occasional poach egg.

As can be readily understood, this set the t for a pleasant day. You can't get sore at some who has brought food and drink to you in soft and downy. You can't even feel sorry yourself, because in the American tradi breakfast in bed is for the rich and powerful their lovey-doveys—and for little people be permitted to act as if they were rich and pow ful for a day. That second part, that was Tw At the Twillery, moreover, there was an aes touch. Sometimes breakfast was served b parents by their dear children, which put entire family in tune for the day. Thereafter, kids could get away with murder because they not begun the day with their little p wings fluttering?

The Crandell clipping brought all of this ba in a rip-tide of reminiscence. We got to reme bering what became of breakfast in bed at Twillery—and that came back in a rip-tide.

It happened one morning last winter. coffee, pup and toast arrived in that order toast was salvaged, but not the coffee. The h of the house issued an edict: Choose bet ve breakfast in bed and pups. The pups won by cold nose. We wonder how the Crandells a doing—or don't they keep pups?

Social Affairs

MISS LOUISE GRACELY, who is being complimented with a number of delightful social affairs before her marriage to William H. Pohler Jr. on Oct. 26, was an honor guest when Mrs. Ray R. King and Mrs. David J. Isaly entertained with a luncheon yesterday at Hotel Harding. The hostesses chose an arrangement of white carnations and greenery for the table centerpiece, carrying out Miss Gracely's colors, and completing the wedding theme were small standards to which were caught wedding rings. Guests were close friends of the bride-elect. She was presented a gift from the hostesses.

Last evening was chosen by the junior members of Captain William Hendricks chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution to entertain with a pre-nuptial party honoring Miss Gracely. Hostess for the occasion was Mrs. Robert Ruth of 132 Charles street. Contests, arranged by Mrs. J. K. Staats, were won by Mrs. Harvey T. Gracely, Mrs. George Schwab and Mrs. Ruth. Chrysanthemums, combined with foliage, decorated the table which was lighted with green and white candles. Present aside from the junior members was Mrs. Harvey T. Gracely, mother of the bride-elect, who also is senior advisor of the junior members. Miss Gracely was presented a gift from the group.

MEMBERS of the Elks Women's club were joined by their husbands for a covered dish dinner and social party last evening in the Elks' clubrooms. Entertainment for the evening was arranged by a committee composed of Mrs. Lee Peck, Mrs. William Smith, Mrs. Ed Ford and Mrs. Dan Hentze, and serving the dinner were Mrs. Sherman Haldeman, Mrs. Elmer R. Bondley, Mrs. Ward Eshman, Mrs. Hattie Gompf, Mrs. Karl Konkle, Mrs. Pat Maloney and Mrs. Geneva Flocken. The women's group will meet for a luncheon Nov. 5, at Hotel Harding.

Committees were named when the Altrurian club met at the home of Mrs. J. C. Scheifler of 557 Cherry street Monday afternoon. Mrs. Bess Knuble presided at the piano for singing of the club song. Business was conducted by Mrs. Bess Williams. The rooms and refreshment table were decorated with flowers which were gifts to the hostess on her birthday anniversary.

Guests were seated at small tables throughout the rooms centered with small bouquets, and Mrs. Williams, who poured, was stationed at the refreshment table which held a centerpiece composed of fancy squash for candlesticks placed around a bouquet of roses and gladioli.

Mrs. M. A. Sparks of Strasburg, daughter of the hostess, Mrs. C. E. Sheperd and Mrs. Kauble assisted in serving. First chapters of the study book, "Party Line" by Louise Baker, were reviewed by Mrs. A. M. Hornby. A sale for the blind was in charge of Mrs. Chester Geddis.

Visitors included Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Sparks and daughter, Maureen.

Named on committees were Mrs. Scheifler and Mrs. Frances Disbennett, art; Mrs. Chester Geddis, blind; Mrs. George Barnes, civic, and health; Mrs. Ada Geddis, radio; Mrs. Alma Miller and Mrs. J. F. Ohmansiek, finance; Mrs. Kauble, literature; Mrs. Fannie Snider, memorial; Mrs. Lester Osbourne, motion pictures; Mrs. Disbennett and Mrs. Curtis Laubner, music; Mrs. Scheifler and Mrs. Hugo Malo, welfare; Mrs. O. J. Ricker and Mrs. Sheperd, social; Mrs. M. S. Miller, federation home; and Mrs. Arthur Potter, patroness. The next meeting will be held in the home of Mrs. Ohmansiek on East Center street.

The T.W.M. club held its first meeting of the season Tuesday evening with Miss Margaret McAfee of 511 Forest street. Bridge was played with high honors going to Mrs. Jack Lautenslager, second to Mrs. Robert Wanner, and low to Mrs. Maynard Snyder. The next meeting will be with Miss Catherine Watson of 147 Clover avenue.

A family dinner was held Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Scheifler on Cherry street in honor of the birthday anniversaries of Mrs. Scheifler and her granddaughter, Jackie Lynn Scheifler, who was three years old. The latter is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Scheifler Jr. of near Edison. A dinner at noon was served to 15 guests by Mrs. M. A. Sparks of Strasburg, daughter of Mrs. Scheifler, and her daughter-in-law, Mrs. J. C. Scheifler Jr. The table was centered with an arrangement of red and yellow roses, a gift to Mrs. Scheifler from her Sunday school class, the Siffritt class of Epworth Methodist church, of which she is president. The celebrants received a number of gifts.

Approximately 100 guests were received by Mr. and Mrs. Will G. Taber at their home in Edison Tuesday when they celebrated their golden wedding anniversary. The couple were joined for the occasion by their four children and families.

A family dinner in observance of the anniversary was held Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs.

Hepburn Couple Will Observe 66th Anniversary

MR. AND MRS. JOSEPH A. SLAGLE of Hepburn, natives of Marion county, will observe their sixty-sixth wedding anniversary Monday, Oct. 20. Only a quiet family celebration has been planned for the occasion.

The marriage of Miss Alice Plotner to Joseph A. Slagle 66 years ago took place at the farm home of T. J. Harvey north of Marion. They moved to Hepburn in 1898 and resided on a farm until 1912. At that time, Mr. Slagle retired from active farming and they moved to their present home in Hepburn, which they built. Born and reared in Marion county, both Mr. and Mrs. Slagle are members of the Methodist church.

Mr. Slagle, who will celebrate his eighty-sixth birthday Oct. 28, tends a large garden as his hobby, and Mrs. Slagle is still active in homemaking. She was 85 Oct. 1.

Mrs. J. O. Sherrick of Dunkirk, north of Kenton, a daughter of Mr. Harvey and a baby at the time of the Slagle's wedding, is the only living person who was present at the ceremony. She was a special guest at last year's celebration of the Slagles' sixty-fifth anniversary.

The celebrants have two children, a daughter, Mrs. Lloyd Virden, who, with her husband, reside with Mr. and Mrs. Slagle in Hepburn, and a son, Edmund L. Slagle, who resides in Painesville where he is associated with the Cleveland Trust Co. They also have a granddaughter, Mrs. Stanley R. Gresham of Lakewood, and a great-grandson, Don Gresham. Mrs. Gresham is a daughter of E. L. Slagle. Mr. Slagle expects to be in Hepburn for the celebration.

Weddings

The marriage of Mrs. Mae Rosette of 645 Girard avenue and Dennis Shaffstall of Nevada, took place Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Rosette's son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Paul L. Rosette of 774 Bennett street. The ceremony was read at 1:45 o'clock by Dr. Henry Schaeffer, pastor of St. Paul's English Lutheran church. Mr. and Mrs. Rosette were the attendants.

For her wedding Mrs. Rosette chose a brown costume with which she wore a gardenia corsage. Her attendant was costumed in a black suit and wore a gardenia corsage. Attending the ceremony and wedding dinner besides the bridal party were Mrs. Paul Clevenger and son, David of Columbus, Mrs. Madge Kincaid and Mrs. A. W. Tibbals.

Following the ceremony the couple left on a wedding trip and will be at home after Nov. 1 at 727 Johnson street. The bride is associated with the Montgomery Ward Co. in the ready-to-wear department and Mr. Shaffstall is an interior decorator and painter.

Announcement is being made of the marriage of Miss Betty Jean Brady, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard D. Brady of Morral, former residents of Ashley, to George J. Shuler, son of Mr. and Mrs. Geoffrey D. Shuler of east of Ashley. The ceremony was read Sunday, Sept. 7, in Greenup, Ky., in the Methodist church by Rev. R. B. Allen.

The bride chose for her wedding a powder blue dress with white accessories.

Mrs. Shuler was graduated from Morral High school with the class of 1947, and prior to her marriage was employed at the J. C. Penney Co. store in Marion. Mr. Shuler served with the U. S. Army in World War II for two years with nine months of that time overseas in Germany. He is now employed with a construction company in Bellepoint. For the present, the couple are making their home with his parents east of Ashley.

Tuesday evening, Oct. 7, a miscellaneous shower was held for the newly married couple at the home of Mr. Schuler's parents east of Ashley. The bride's colors of pink and blue were carried out in the table centerpiece. A doll dressed in a long pink dress with a blue bonnet was placed in the center of the table beneath a shower of pink and blue streamers extending from the chandelier. Approximately 100 guests were present.

MARSEILLES SERVICES

At the evening service of the Marseilles Methodist church Sunday, a motion picture, "The Voice in the Wilderness," will be shown. Thursday night next week, there will be a union W.S.C.S. meeting of the Marseilles, Wesley Chapel and Salem churches at Marseilles. Sunday morning worship service at Salem church will be at 9:45, and at Marseilles at 11, while there will be no preaching service at Wesley Chapel this Sunday.

Kin of Marion Residents Weds South American

OF interest here is the wedding of Miss Virginia Guthery Drake, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George H. Drake of Bay Village and Enrique R. Mujica of Rosario, Chile, South America, which took place Sunday, Oct. 5, at the home of the bride's parents.

The couple left by plane for Chile, following the ceremony. Enroute they planned to stop at Lima, Peru, to visit the Inca ruins. They will make their home at Casilla 25 Hacienda Mendoza, in Rosario, Chili, home of the bridegroom.

The bride, who is the granddaughter of Mrs. John H. Guthery of 273 Bradford street and the late Mr. Guthery, was graduated from Ohio State university with a bachelor of science degree. Mr. Mujica received his degree in engineering at the University of Chile in Santiago and is an industrialist and agriculturist.

I never collected anything until FAT SALVAGE began!

Says NORMAN BEL GEDDES, Famous Industrial Designer

First editions, antiques and left-handed teacups interest some people as collectors' items. I'm no collector, except when it comes to used fats. I've been reading how urgently every pound of used kitchen grease is still needed. The government says that the present world supply of fats and oils to make so many things we all need is only a little better than it was last year. The only extra source to depend on is America's kitchens. That's why I've turned collector—of used fats! Please, won't you keep saving and turning them in?

Mr. Taber Adams on Harding Highway East.

Mr. and Mrs. Taber received their guests from 2 to 4 o'clock in the afternoon and from 7 to 9 in the evening. For the occasion, Mrs. Taber wore a black dress trimmed with sequins and a corsage of yellow roses. Mr. Taber had a yellow rose boutonniere. The house was decorated with bouquets of yellow roses and yellow chrysanthemums, and the celebrants received a number of gifts and congratulation cards.

Arranged on display for the guests to see was Mrs. Taber's wedding gown, a few of the original wedding gifts, and the portraits of the couple taken at the time of their wedding 50 years ago.

Refreshments of ice cream and cake decorated with yellow roses and coffee were served by Mrs. P. V. Tippett of Ansonia, Conn., a daughter of the celebrants and Mrs. Ernest Reed of Tampa, Fla., a niece.

The children present were Mrs. Tippett of Ansonia, Conn., Lawrence E. Taber of Edison, Mrs. O. D. Philbrook of Cardington, and Horace W. Taber of 125½ South Grand avenue. Five grandchildren were also present. Mrs. Taber's three brothers, George Coe and Ray M. Coe, both residing in Florida, and Dr. F. O. Coe of Bethesda, Md., were unable to attend.

Mrs. Robert Messenger of Universal avenue was hostess for a meeting of Beta Gamma chapter, Lambda Chi Omega sorority Tuesday night at her home. Plans were made for a rummage sale Oct. 30 in the Palace theater building and arrangements made to sponsor a chapter project. Mrs. Don Jerew and Miss Dorothy Gail Stephenon will represent the chapter at the state convention at Dayton Saturday and Sunday. Also attending will be Mrs. Wayne Barnhill Jr., and Mrs. Henry Schuler Jr. Plans were made for a business session Tuesday night at Hotel Marion with Miss Rosaline Manzo as hostess.

Mrs. Maude Whiteman and Mrs. Bessie Hogan were presented birthday gifts when members of the Wide Awake club met Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. Ella Boyer of Delaware avenue. Euchre was played with honors going to the following, Mrs. Hazel Robbins, first; Mrs. Emma Slagle, second; Mrs. Emma Linn, third, Mrs. Sadie Violet, lone hand. Mrs. Marie Eshman of Monroe street will entertain the club in two weeks.

Mrs. Anna Zimmerman of North Seffner avenue returned yesterday from a 10-day visit with friends in New York City and Newark, N. J.

Marion Nurses Hear Talk On Children's Ills

EVERY day in the week a child is born in Ohio who is the victim of the most baffling of crippling conditions — cerebral palsy, Mrs. Helen P. Nelson told members of the Seventh District, Ohio State Nurses association, in a talk Monday night. The occasion was the monthly meeting of the association held at the Federation Home. Hostesses were Mrs. Urton Anderson, chairman, Mrs. Elmer W. Elliott, Mrs. Enos Irey, Mrs. George T. Geran, Mrs. Arthur W. Atkinson and Mrs. H. J. Klinefelter.

During a business session Mrs. Louise Sims was voted an honorary life member of the district group, an honor never before conferred on a local nurse. Plans also were made for a rummage sale Nov. 14. Mrs. Juanita Peebles, delegate, gave a report of the meeting of the House of Delegates held in Chicago last month.

Mrs. Nelson, who is coordinator of the cerebral palsy project of The Ohio Society for Crippled Children, described the cerebral palsied child as an "emergency plus," because he is treatable early in life and less treatable the older he grows.

The aim of the cerebral palsy project of the Ohio Society for Crippled Children is to assist in bringing more adequate medical and therapy services to cerebral palsied children of the state, Mrs. Nelson said.

For refreshments, served in the diningroom during a social hour, the appointments were in orange and black in keeping with Halloween. Candles in these colors lighted the room and the table, laid with an orange cloth, was centered with an arrangement of fruit and vegetables from which extended garlands of ivy.

When the association meets Nov. 10 the speaker will be Dr. Jay L. Plymale whose subject will be "New Developments in Orthopedic Surgery."

Women's Club Meets At Bausinger Home

Miss Mary Ann Bausinger was hostess for a meeting of the Business and Professional Women's club in her home at 519 South Main street Wednesday night. Committee chairmen gave reports and discussion was held on a speaker for the annual employer-employe dinner meeting which will be held in January.

Projects of presenting monthly talks to girls of vocational education and distributive education classes of Harding High school on phases of business life, by members of the club, and of entertaining girls from these classes and commercial classes of St. Mary High school at semi-monthly meetings of the club, were discussed.

There was discussion also on a plan of securing and placing on file record of blood types of members of the club to be made available for medical cases needing donors for blood transfusion treatment. Following business, members addressed for mailing 1,000 cards going to persons who had chest X-rays made by the X-ray mobile unit at the Marion county fair in August. Miss Mary K. Miley presided, and at opening of the meeting, the club collect was read by Mrs. Lois Barnhouse. Miss Marjorie Ebert, a guest, and Miss Inez Kraner, a new member, were introduced. On the entertaining committee with Miss Bausinger were Misses Martha Fabian, Kathryn Lusch and Elaine Ballinger, and Mrs. Flora Gruber, and Miss Kathryn Bausinger and Mrs. E. J. Byrnes, sisters of the hostess, assisted with refreshments.

COMMITTEE NAMED TO PLAN PARADES

Council To Coordinate Veterans' Celebrations.

Committees to arrange for parades and other veterans activities in the future were named at a meeting of the United Veterans and Civic Council Wednesday night in the American Legion Dugout on South High street. The organization, which has been formed to plan and conduct parades in the city, is made up of representatives from all veterans and civic organizations. Formerly known as the United Veterans Council, the new name for the organization was decided on when civic organizations were asked to join.

The committees, appointed by the president, R. E. Copeland, are: finance committee, R. M. Miller, chairman, Charles Morbitt, Mrs. Don DeLong, Robert Coleman and Clark Byrnes; band committee, G. R. Messenger, chairman; publicity, Jim Grainer; and parade committee, John Moore, chairman, Francis Cook, Robert Ruhlman, R. M. Miller, Albert Yeoman, Malcolm Severns, Mrs. E. G. Obenour, Carl Haberman and Robert McMahon.

Approximately 45 persons attended the meeting last night. A meeting for committee chairmen will be held Monday, Oct. 20, at 7:30 p. m. in the American Legion 162 Club rooms, and a general meeting of the council will be Wednesday, Oct. 29, at 7:30 p. m. in the AMVETS club rooms.

"Faith Healers" Plan Snake-Handling Rites

By The Associated Press

HARLAN, Ky., Oct. 16—Members of the "faith healers" religious sect mapped plans today to conduct another snake-handling service on the courthouse lawn here Sunday.

Plans for the new demonstration were announced after two court decisions under Kentucky's 1941 law banning public handling of snakes. One ruling was adverse, the other favorable.

Odie Shupe of nearby Cumberland, Ky., involved in both court rulings, announced the Sunday service.

Circuit Judge James S. Forester yesterday dismissed charges against Shupe, Cindy Mays, Raymond Hays and Gladys Sturgill, who had been convicted by the Harlan county court and fined $50 each for violating the anti-snake handling law at their home town of Cumberland last Aug. 14.

Makes a beautiful Room

Wall to wall carpeting lends charm to a beautiful room. If you have never seen a Lennon wall to wall installation it will pay you to stop in on your next trip down town and let us explain to you just why discriminating folks are demanding this new service.

Carpets have been scarce during the past few years. Now they are coming in very much better. Right now we are showing thousands of yards of the finest carpets by Alex. Smith & Sons, the largest and oldest carpet weavers in the world in 27", 9 foot and 12 ft. widths.

When you choose an Alex. Smith carpet you know without being told that the fabric is all wool face and guaranteed pre-war construction. If it is Alex. Smith, it is good carpet regardless of the price you may pay. You'll like our low prices and we just know that you will be proud of your new carpet if it is installed by *Increases since 1939, from Department of Labor Index for moderate income families in large cities, and from National Housing Agency.

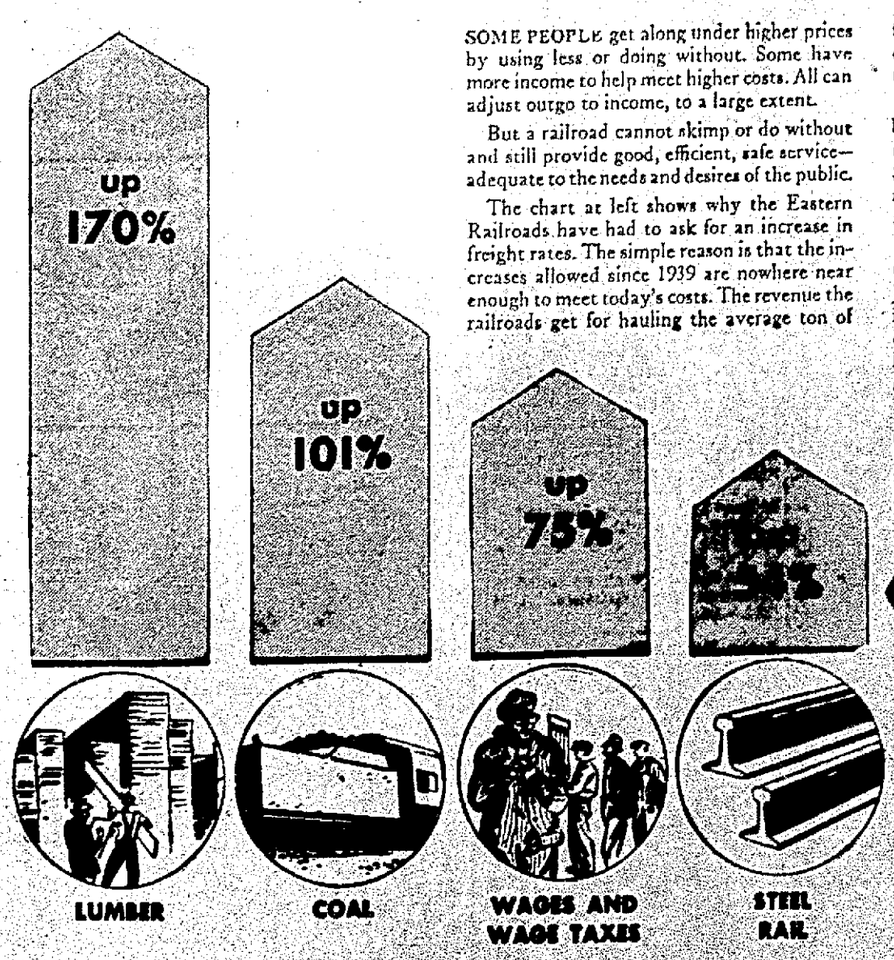
...our costs have gone up, too!



SOME PEOPLE get along under higher prices by using less or doing without. Some have more income to help meet higher costs. All can adjust outgo to income, to a large extent.

But a railroad cannot skimp or do without and still provide good, efficient, safe service—adequate to the needs and desires of the public.

The chart at left shows why the Eastern Railroads have had to ask for an increase in freight rates. The simple reason is that the increases allowed since 1939 are nowhere near enough to meet today's costs. The revenue the railroads get for hauling the average ton of freight is only 15% more, whereas the cost of operating the railroads has increased more than 63% in that period.

Only recently, for instance, an arbitration board added another $468,000,000 to our annual bill for wages and wage taxes, of which $187,000,000 is borne by the Eastern Railroads. This brings the increase in these items alone to more than 75% since 1939.

All the railroads ask is what the law says they should be allowed to have. That means just and reasonable rates. The law says there is need in the public interest for adequate and efficient railway transportation service at the lowest cost consistent with furnishing such service.

In other words, all the railroads ask is sufficient revenue to enable them, under honest, economical and efficient management, to provide the kind of service people want.

Some examples of increased costs since 1939, affecting railroad operation

Increased freight rates since 1939 have increased the revenue from hauling the average ton of freight one mile only 15%

Have we a right to wonder why
She heard a call that passed us by?
Have we a cause for grief or woe,
Knowing that God has willed it so?
No, she is happy waiting there,
Where the winds are soft and the skies are fair.
How can we speak of her as dead,
When like a child, she has just gone ahead?

TWO NEW UNITS BUILT AT CAMP

Each Will Accommodate 32 Boy Scouts.

Two new winter units designed to accommodate 32 boys each are now nearing completion at the camp John A. Owens, Boy Scout camp. In addition to the log and cement block constructions, a new caretaker's lodge is also under construction. The old lodge will be converted into a first aid unit.

Announcement of the progress was given at a recent meeting of the camp development committee who discussed plans of expanding the camp facilities. Appointed to the committee by Dr. Robert Gray, president of the Harding Area council are, Robert Mason, chairman, Charlton Myers, L. Otis Porter and W. H. Goodwin. Charles Oborn, Marion architect, drew plans for the new camp units.

Recently a group of the Marion Scout officials visited Camp Berry, a scout camp near Findlay, on an inspection tour as part of the camp development program. Conducting the tour were C. E. Bardon and Walter Lingo of LaRue, Mr. Goodwin, Alfred Exton, Earl Andrews and Dr. Gray and Hugh F. Hay.

"Christ for LaRue" Campaign To Open

A "Christ for LaRue" campaign will open Sunday in the Baptist church there. The services will open at 7:30 o'clock with the singing of old favorite hymns by the choir under the direction of Rev. L. D. Parish, pastor, and at 8 p. m. the sermons will be by James Thomas, graduate of Bob Jones college.

This is not a Baptist campaign, but for the entire community, the pastor said.

The meetings will continue through Nov. 2. Saturday night will be observed as youth night. Miss Flora Lou Gleasonkamp of Ostrander will contribute special piano numbers.

TIME OUT FROM SITDOWN STRIKE. Two sitdown strikers at the Industrial Container Corp., in Brooklyn, reach through open window for a kiss from their babies, brought to the plant by their wives Oct. 14. The men, involved in a CIO-AFL jurisdictional dispute, struck Oct. 13. Both unions are calling for application of the Taft-Hartley law.

PENSION SOCIETY HOLDS MEETING IN EAGLES HALL

The Old Age Pension society met in the Eagles hall last Friday.

The meeting opened with the group singing of "America." Reverend Joel Harmon, pastor of Second Pilgrim Holiness church, gave the opening prayer and the congregation then repeated the Lord's Prayer. After the salute to the flag by the entire group, the choir then sang "There Shall Be Showers of Blessing."

Arthur Herschner, president, appointed a grievance committee composed of Thomas Manhart, Mr. Small, and Claude Crowley. Christian Ruth and William Sergent sang a vocal duet, "Farther Along."

Guest speaker was Rev. Harmon who spoke on "The Value of Prayer." "We have a God in Heaven," said Reverend Harmon, "who knows your needs. Where two agree on anything, we shall be rewarded according to his riches in glory. . . . The soul needs spiritual food. How much time do you take in prayer?"

Short talks were presented by Thomas Manhart, Claude Crowley and William Porter.

The choir then sang, "God Be With You Till We Meet Again," and the meeting was closed with the benediction by Rev. Harmon.

C. OF C. REPORTS ON BUSINESS TRENDS

Slight Dip Downard in General Conditions.

The general business statistics trend in Marion took a slight downward dip during September according to the monthly tabulation of business factors compiled by the Chamber of Commerce.

Of 15 business factors on which comparisons could be made with August business, 11 declined while four showed slight gains. A comparison with the factors listed a year ago in the tabulation showed however that 10 of the 15 are running ahead of September, 1946.

The four factors running ahead of August figures are: real estate transfers with 199 in September against 192 in August; sale of used cars with 150 in September against 134 the month previous; prepaid sales tax which to date for 1947 is $509,546 against $454,299 in August and relief cases which totaled 97 for the month against 91 in August.

Factors falling off in September but still above figures for a year ago are: bank debits, $28,251,201 against $30,277,289 and $24,790,929; postal receipts, $20,064 against $20,119 and $17,825; new car sales, 97 against 108 and 78; gas meter, 10,304 against 10,492 and 10,090; real estate valuation in transactions, $524,125 against $582,973 and $491,285.

Factors falling below both the August, 1947 and September, 1946 levels are industrial employment, which dropped from 10,114 in September of last year to 10,030 in August of this year and 9,965 the month following. Relief cases rose proportionately from 77 a year ago September to 91 in August and 97 in September of this year. Others weakening during the same periods were sales of trucks and installations of electric meters.

New building, however, is substantially above the figure recorded a year ago. A total of 52 building permits were issued in September, 1946 against 70 in August and 75 in September of 1947, despite an overall drop in valuation from $137,625 to $61,725 over the same period.

COUNTY PLAYS PART IN 4-H CLUB DRIVE

Campaign for Quota To Be Discussed Friday.

Additional plans for raising a total of $2,000 for the 4-H club foundation will be discussed at a meeting of the agricultural committee of the Chamber of Commerce at the Chamber office Friday.

Marion county 4-H members as well as members all over Ohio are raising an endowment fund of $200,000 for 4-H club work. The $2,000 goal was voluntarily set by the Marion county members and a total of $239 has already been received through individual contributions and money raising projects.

Members of the Marion county foundation committee headed by F. D. Loudenslager includes Dale Lawrence, Mrs. Calvin Retterer and Marion Clark.

The fund raised will be used to provide scholarship trips, conferences and other education events for members, former members and leaders.

Several clubs in Marion county have contributed to the fund from their treasury or by personal gifts. The Martel 4-H clubs combined to hold a community supper recently and raised $100 which was donated to the fund as a community gift. Other clubs have staged paper drives or donated a dollar per member in order to reach the goal.

Plans are being considered now to solicit the financial help of all Marion county residents. Details of the campaign to raise the local quota will be announced later.

MAJ. BURNHAM REPOTS ARMY ENLISTMENTS

Major Lee H. Burnham of the Army and Air Force recruiting station here, announced enlistment of 16 men during the month of September. Of this number 11 designated the airforce. Others were regular army, two: infantry, one; army ground forces, one, and one request was made for an European theater assignment.

Air Force enlistments were: William D. Heath of near Delaware, Donald W. Macomber of Delaware, Paul W. Richardson of 586 North State street, Charles W. Harris of 586 North Greenwood street, Herbert R. Danner of Orchard street, Forest E. Wise of 488 Evans road, David Hut of 347 Lafayette street, Harry Hickman of near Morral, Francis Mullins of 879 Bennett street, John I. Burns of 433 Park street and James E. Thomas of Delaware.

Enlisting in the regular army were Clayton E. Dunford of 306 North Greenwood street and Shelley L. Dykes of near Cardington. Russell K. Herriott, 762 Cheney avenue enlisted in the infantry; Oliver E. Mercier of near Leonardsburg, in the army ground forces and Clarence A. Willis of near Marion asked for service in the European command.

WIFE SLAIN. Police at New Philadelphia, O., seized Russell Barnes, 36, (above) as he slept off a drunk following the fatal shooting of his estranged wife, killed as she sat on the porch of a woman friend. According to a police report, Mrs. Barnes was killed after her husband had driven up to the house and asked his wife to return.

3 Hi-Y Clubs Hold Meetings at Y.M.C.A.

Three Hi-Y clubs met at the Y.M.C.A. Tuesday night. The Sophomore club heard a guest speaker, the Universis club discussed possible service projects and named a committee, and the Delta club saw a moving picture, "Playtown—U.S.A."

Howard Thomas, assistant football coach at Harding High school, talked to the Sophomore club on juvenile delinquency and leisure time, and encouraged the members to spend their leisure time in worthwhile activities at school and at the Y.

He accepted the proposal of the club to become its faculty advisor. A service committee formed by the Universis club includes Bob Reece, P. J. Menzer and Ronald Ainey. The moving picture shown the Delta club was presented through courtesy of the Marion Life Underwriters association.

HEAR REPORTS AT MEETING

Red Cross Chapter Board of Directors in Session at Hotel.

Reports of chairmen and talks on chapter services were given at the monthly meeting of the board of directors of the Marion county chapter of the American Red Cross, Wednesday noon at Hotel Harding.

Robert Solinger, first aid chairman, reported the chapter now has seven automobiles fully equipped with first aid service, now on the highways in the county and announced that plans of his committee include the establishments of two more highway first aid stations in the county. He also gave a demonstration of first aid.

Mrs. Frank M. Knapp, newly-appointed chairman of the home nursing committee, announced her committee and told of plans for the forming of home nursing classes. The urgent need at present is for instructors, who must be registered nurses, she said. Several requests have been received for the organization of classes since the committee held its first meeting earlier this month. Mrs. Knapp succeeds Mrs. C. J. Ackerman, who served as home nursing chairman throughout the war years, and who will serve as her co-chairman.

Home Service Report

Miss Paula Ramroth, home service secretary, gave a talk on her work and gave the board a brief resume of a morning in her department. Miss Ramroth will go to Alexandria, Va., this month for a course of instruction for home service secretaries and also plans to attend a meeting in Columbus in connection with her work in the near future.

Mrs. C. W. Smoot, chairman for community service to camps and hospitals, told of the plan to remember service men who will spend Christmas on the high seas, stating it is the plan of the National Red Cross to have a package for each of the 155,000 men who will be at sea at Christmas time. Contributions were made by the board members to finance a gift.

Mrs. Carl W. Sawyer gave a report of the volunteer services and Mrs. William K. Harmon told of the activities and plans of the Junior Red Cross.

Three New Members

Charlton Myers, chairman of the board, presided for the meeting and introduced three new members of the board. Robert Bush, who will serve as chairmen of the disaster committee. Dr. H. R. Finney and Walter Grumblatt. Mr. Myers also called attention to the campaign to finance the work of agencies of the Marion Community Foundation, which will open next week.

Reports submitted for the month of September showed that in the home service department a total of 104 cases were open during the month with 59 continued into the current month. Thirty four letters were written in connection with services to veterans and others aplying for aid or information. 85 office interviews were held and 12 home and six collateral visits were made.

During the month seven corps members volunteered 25 hours of service in the office and at the visitors' desk at the City hospital; one home service corps member volunteered two hours of service; 19 members of the canteen corps volunteered 86 hours of service in serving a dinner at a Junior Red Cross meeting and three Gray ladies volunteered 23 hours of service at the City hospital.

SOUND CREDIT RATING CALLED RAIL "MUST"

By The United Press

CLEVELAND, Oct. 16 — Railroads more susceptible to socialization than any other industry in the country, must have a good credit and a sound credit rating to avoid nationalization, according to Robert J. Bowman, president of the Chesapeake and Ohio railway system.

Progressivism in the railroad industry is one absolute way of avoiding socialization," he said.

"We are trying to avoid state control of the railroad industry by doing the things the public wants, giving them good rail service, rehabilitation, improving and modernizing equipment and property.

"Americans are seeing what is happening to the British and are not going to allow that to happen here."

Bowman insisted that if the government ever invaded the railroad industry, it would not be long before it got into other industries, such as steel and coal.

"The whole industrial fabric is so interwoven that it would not be long before all major industries were nationalized.

"The American people are opposed to nationalization or anything that borders on socialization. The public favors the railroads having a good living wage. This must be brought home to all people. Once we appraise them of the dangers of nationalization, they will be on the alert," Bowman said.

Mystery of the Missing Farms

Yep, the number of farms in America is shrinking (by a quarter-million in the last five years!). What's happened to the missing farms? The land has been taken in by other farms, increasing the average size by twenty acres!

Does this growth mean farming's no longer a family enterprise? Just the opposite! More families own farms today than ever—only with labor-saving equipment they can handle more land, more work.

That's as it should be. The family farm is a fortress of democracy—where our free, American life is secure. Where every member cooperates and shares the work . . . living together in temperance and tolerance—temperance that prefers a moderate beverage like beer, and tolerance for a taste that may be different from one's own.

From where I sit, our Family Farms (and they're 96% of all farms) are something that this country can be proud of!

"SMEAR," SAYS REUTHER OF G. O. P. "NOMINATION"

By The Associated Press

BOSTON, Oct. 16—Walter P. Reuther, president of the CIO United Automobile Workers assailed as a "part of a smear campaign" a Chicago announcement that a publicity firm had been engaged to work for the nomination of Reuther for vice president on a Republican ticket headed by Sen. Taft (R-Ohio).

Reuther declared the announcement by P. H. Morris and Associates, a publicity firm, was "another movement by my political opponents in an effort to win votes for themselves at our UAW convention."

UAW locals now are selecting delegates to the national convention of the union, to be held at Atlantic City Nov. 9.

"I expressed my opinion of Taft and his candidacy at the CIO convention here yesterday when I said I would see him in hell before I would see him in the White House," Reuther said. "That statement still stands.

"If such a group as claimed by the Morris company exists, which I doubt, they are neither responsible nor civic minded," Reuther added.

American Diary

By Hal Boyle

BEMIDJI, MINN. (AP) — CHANCE lies behind the founding of many towns and cities, but in none more so than this community that likes to be called "the icebox of America."

For Bemidji—named after a famous Indian chief—owes its existence to a man who thought he had found here something he hadn't. And the town has also made itself famous as the birthplace of a man who never lived—the legendary woodlogger Paul Bunyan.

Hal Boyle

The man who thought he had found something here he hadn't was a homesteader who picked up a brilliant stone in 1894 and thought it was a diamond.

Well, it wasn't. By the time New York experts got around to deciding it was only quartzite, the town of Bemidji had been born.

There were no diamonds but the whole area was a sea of emerald wealth—great stands of forest pine that made it a lumber center. Tales of Paul Bunyan, the granddaddy woodlogger of them all, became folklore of the region, and a number of years ago Bemidji staked out its claim as Paul's home town.

Build Statue

Townspeople built a 20-foot painted concrete statue of Paul and "Babe," his blue ox, on the shores of Lake Bemidji. The monument is visited annually by an estimated 300,000 vacation tourists.

In the adjoining colorful "fireside of states," built with stones from every state in the union, they hear tall stories of the mighty Paul, such as:

How his hotcakes were cooked on a griddle as big as a pond, greased by 10 swampers who skated across it with slabs of bacon tied to their feet.

How the "winter of the blue snow" was caused by Paul swearing blue streaks after hitting his thumb with a 16-pound hammer. Conversation froze in the air that terrible winter, and when spring came and melted it there was a terrific din of backed-up words.

How it took one man's full time to keep Paul's pipe shoveled full of tobacco. Everytime he took a puff the loggers thought it was a new forest fire.

How Bunyan built a bunkhouse so large the top stories were hinged in order to let the moon go by; and a cookhouse so large one cook got lost between the flour bin and root celler, and almost starved before he was found.

Turned Mississippi Around

How the blue ox "Babe" once made the Mississippi river flow backward by taking too deep a drink, and created Minnesota's 10,000 lakes by her stamping and pawing.

How Bunyan's camp bookkeeper, Johnny Inkslinger, ran a hose from a barrel of ink to his pen and thus invented the fountain pen. He saved five barrels of ink one winter by not crossing his "T's" or dotting his "I's."

How Paul and his men, hearing Kansas was covered by whisky trees, went down to set up lumber camps there. Between drinks they cut down all the whisky trees—and Kansas is still dry to this day.

In Bemidji the local residents feud with other Minnesota communities claiming cold weather records—it fell to 45 degrees below zero last winter. They're proud here of the nickname—"America's icebox."

There's a good reason.

"When people start looking for a place to vacation from the summer heat," explained H. Z. "Henie" Mitchell, editor of the Bemidji Pioneer, "they remember our icebox climate."

And that's as big a lure as Paul Bunyan himself. The real diamonds of Bemidji turned out to be its winter icicles.

POINTS TO ERROR IN REPORT ON CHARGES

A. T. Allen, visiting teacher in the city schools, today said an item in yesterday's Star, relating to juvenile court charges against parents was partially incorrect in that it said the children in question were permitted to attend school with unclean bodies and clothing. Mr. Allen called attention to the exact wording of the affidavits which charge, "that the parents have failed, neglected and refused to clean the head of said child of lice and/or nits. That such neglect on the part of the parents is thus injurious to the general health and welfare of said child and of every child with whom associated."

BYRNES

had served as the Russian Ambassador in London for 11 years, and at Yalta often acted as interpreter as well as advisor to Stalin. It was he who presented the Soviet proposal on German reparations.

"Our plan foresees that reparations in kind should be demanded from Germany in two ways," Mr. Maisky explained. "First, withdrawals from the national wealth of Germany. That means factories, land, machinery, machine tools, rolling stock of railways, investments in foreign enterprises, and so on. Second, yearly payments in kind after the war in the course of 10 years."

He proposed that 80 per cent of all German industry should be withdrawn, specifying the iron and steel, engineering, metal and chemical industries. He added that aviation plants, facilities for the production of synthetic oil and all other military enterprises and factories should be withdrawn entirely.

Meant Confiscating

"By withdrawal I mean to confiscate and carry away physically and use as reparations payments," he emphasized.

Mr. Churchill responded first to Mr. Maisky's statement. He recalled the experience of the United Kingdom after World War I.

"The process was a very disappointing one," he said. "With great difficulty about 1,000,000,000 pounds was extracted from Germany, and that would never have been extracted if the United States, at the same time, had not loaned Germany a larger sum."

"Removal of plants and factories to a certain extent is a proper step," he declared, "but I am quite sure you will never be able to get out of ruined Germany for Russia alone anything like 215,000,000 pounds a year." He pictured Britain's losses and heavy debts and referred to the severe losses of other countries which these figures to point out what an must be considered in allotting reparations.

"Secondly," Mr. Churchill continued, "there arises in my mind the specter of an absolutely starving Germany.

"If our treatment of Germany's internal economy is such as to leave 80 million people virtually starving, are we to sit still and say, 'It serves you right,' or will we be required to keep them alive? If so, who is going to pay for that? . . . If you have a horse and you want him to pull the wagon you have to provide him with a certain amount of corn—or at least hay."

"But the horse must not kick you," Mr. Maisky objected.

Proposes Study

Mr. Churchill switched to a non-kicking illustration by saying:

"If you have a motor car you must give it a certain amount of petrol to make it go. I am in favor of having a reparations inquiry committee set up to explore this subject with the object of getting the most we can in a sensible way."

In presenting the position of the United States, President Roosevelt pointed out that after the last war we loaned to Germany billions of dollars, and emphasized "We cannot let that happen again."

"We are in the position of not wanting any of Germany's manpower," the President said. "We do not want any of her machinery, tools, or her factories. There will be some German assets in the United States that might be credited against what Germany owes the United States, but it will amount to very little." After the meeting I advised the President that the best estimate placed the value of German assets in this country at 150 million dollars and that the value certainly would not exceed 200 million. He later used exceedingly small amount we would receive in contrast to other nations.

Stalin States View

Marshal Stalin then entered the discussion. "The root of the trouble the last time," he asserted, "was that reparations were demanded in money. Then, the question arose of transferring the German mark into foreign currencies. That was the rock upon which reparations broke down."

Marshal Stalin urged that the three powers that carried the burden of the war should have priority in reparations. He said it must be admitted that "France did not have any sacrifice to compare to the three powers I have in mind." And then to clinch the argument, he said, "France at this time has in the war eight divisions while the Lublin government has 10 divisions." There is no doubt that his opinion as to the claims of a government was influenced by the number of its divisions He is credited with having said at Yalta, when reference was made to the views of the Pope, "How many divisions does he have?" The marshal did not make that statement at Yalta But it was the yardstick he frequently used.

* * *

The problem of Poland's boundaries was outranked in importance on the agenda of the Yalta conference only by that of reconciling the difference between two rival governments of that country, one in Lublin and one in London. In a third installment of "Speaking Frankly," to be published tomorrow, Mr. Byrnes describes how the Allied statesmen at Yalta tried to solve these problems.

CLARK INVESTIGATING GAMBLING IN GRAINS

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Oct. 16—President Truman said today that Attorney General Clark is investigating gambling in grains and fibers on commodity exchanges

Mr Truman spoke out against gambling in commodities at a news conference, during which he attributed much of increased food costs to such speculation.

He also said that he thinks the food conservation program is showing signs of success.

The President saw no immediate need for the return to food rationing and other such controls He called them police-state methods usable only in extreme emergencies.

In a stern manner, Mr. Truman said there is a tremendous amount of gambling on the commodity exchanges. He said that the wheat crop had been traded in eight or nine times on the Chicago board of trade alone.

Questioned by reporters as to whether government purchases for foreign relief are largely responsible for prevailing high prices, the President said while this buying has had some effect it is not considerable. He added that the United States always has exported a third or more of its wheat crop.

On Own Initiative

In response to another question, the President said Clark took up the exchanges investigation on his own initiative Asked if the investigation also includes meat, he said that meat isn't traded on the commodity exchanges.

Asked if a grand jury in Chicago already is investigating the meat packers, the President said yes.

Mr. Truman's citizens' food committee went ahead today seeking final food-saving agreements with the nation's bakers and brewers.

Chairman Charles Luckman planned conferences with both groups in the hope of working out ways for the bakers to save 3,000,000 bushels of grain a month and the brewers an amount described only as "substantial."

May Call Congress

The President said there still is a possibility he will call a special session of congress to deal with Europe' financial plight.

He told his news conference no decision has been made and the administration is still continuing its search for funds for stopgap aid to western Europe.

New Strike Starts As French End One

By The Associated Press

PARIS, Oct 16—A crippling strike which tied up Paris subway and bus lines for three days apparently was near an end today, but 40,000 merchant seamen went on strike

A member of Premier Paul Ramadier's staff said the strikers were expected to return to their jobs sometime today and soon afterward motormen of the independent subway workers union voted to return to work this afternoon.

MISHAP REPORTED

Alice Wilson, 67, of 1014 North Main street, opened the door of her parked car and an auto driven by Francis William Norris, 54, of 407 Oak street, hit the door while passing, causing the left rear fender of his car to be smashed, according to a report by the city police. Both cars were headed north on Leader street and the only damage was to the car owned by Norris, police said.

FINED ON TWO CHARGES

Mrs. Gussie Smith, 47, of 750 Fairfield street pleaded guilty to two charges when she was arraigned in municipgal court yesterday. She was charged with intoxication and with illegal possession of a dwelling owned by the Baker Wood preserving Co. On the first charge she was fined $10 and costs and for the second she was fined $25 and costs which was suspended providing she vacate the premises.

MARION AREA WORKERS PICK TELEPHONE UNION

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, Oct. 16—The national labor relations board today announced the result of the first collective bargaining agency election held in this district since the Taft-Hartley labor law became operative.

Commercial employes employed in the Marion district of the Ohio Associated Telephone Co. yesterday selected the Ohio Federation of Telephone Workers as their bargaining agent by a vote of 6 to 0. Seven employes were eligible to vote.

Runaway Auto Damages Car, Sidewalk and Lawn

A car operated by Farrel L. Landon, 20, of 200 East Fairground street, this morning at 3:40 a. m., crashed into a parked car and then jumped a curb, breaking the sidewalk and tearing up the yard at 404 Blaine avenue, according to city police reports.

Farrel was traveling north on Blaine avenue and had just rounded a street barricade set up by workmen last night when his right wheel locked, according to Farrel's report to the police. He was unable to control the car and slid into the parked auto belonging to George Kuba of 411 Blaine avenue. The car then careened on down the street, jumping the curb at 404 Blaine avenue and finally came to rest in the yard. Police said that the damage to the automobile and the sidewalk was not serious.

New Price Increase For Food Shapes Up

By The Associated Press

New price boosts in many basic food items in the nation's retail stores appeared on the way today as the trend of prices on most of the country's commodity markets continued their upward trend.

Any hope shoppers had of an early drop in retail prices faded yesterday as most commodities soared to new highs on wholesale markets and The Associated Press weighted wholesale price index of 35 commodities moved to a new all-time peak.

The index was 195 66 as compared to the previous record high of 195.31 on Sept. 16 and with 100 during the base year 1923.

Cash wheat in Chicago sold for $3.06 a bushel, the highest price in 27 years and in Kansas City the $3.25 a bushel for No. 2 hard wheat was the top price in 30 years. December wheat in Chicago sold at $3 a bushel for the the first time in the history of that future contract and the third time that a wheat future had reached $3.

Other advances on the wholesale markets, indicating higher prices may follow in stores, were recorded in corn, rye, flour, cotton, cattle, hogs, coffee cocoa and rubber. Lower prices were shown in lard, butter, lamb and oats.

necessity" of "positive interim measures' to supply food and coal to Europe "to prevent a fatal deterioration, political, economic and psychological."

He said: "We are faced with the danger of the actual disappearance of the characteristics of western civilization on which our government and our manner of living depend."

He said the U. S. is making a "determined campaign" to get world stability, which is necessary to world peace.

He spoke of the need for "infinite patience," readiness to assist those in need of help and the discounting of "vicious propaganda and outrageous criticism."

Marshall said twice—for emphasis—that the basic issue today "is simply whether or not men are to be left free to organize their social, political and economic existence in accordance with their desires; or whether they are to have their lives arranged and dictated for them by small groups of men who have arrogated to themselves this arbitrary power."

At the end of the day, the convention adopted a CIO resolution on foreign policy, supporting all "sound programs" of economic aid to other countries and generally calling for peace, unity understanding, and an end to war talk.

TWO CARS COLLIDE

Cars operated by William Chester Scott, 40, of near Marion and Alva Edward Saunders, 19, of 678 Marshall street, collided at the intersection of Barks avenue and Sheridan road at 8:22 a. m. yesterday morning, city police reported. Scott was traveling west on Sheridan road when Saunders pulled out from Barks avenue and hit his auto.

MISS TRUMAN TO BEGIN CONCERT TOUR FRIDAY

By The Associated Press

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 16—Margaret Truman, singing daughter of the President, arrived here today from Kansas City to launch her first concert tour tomorrow night.

Accompanied only by her pianist, Mrs. Frederick Shaw of Kansas City, the blond 23-year-old soprano smiled happily and told reporters:

"I feel like I'm going to stay this time."

She was referring to her trip of last May when she arrived here only to leave a few hours later, for the bedside of her sick grandmother, who later died.

YOUR HEALTH

Recovery from Operations

PEOPLE who had major operations ten years or so ago are often amazed at the speed with which friends who undergo the same kind of surgery today seem to recover.

It is true that recovery from operation these days is quicker and is accompanied by fewer discomforts and complications than ever before. This is one of the great new advances in medicine. It is due to two things—our new understanding of the importance of protein to the body and our new ability to supply protein in ways we did not have earlier.

Ordinarily, protein, which is the material from which body tissues are built, is supplied in such foods as meat, milk and eggs. But the man who must undergo major surgery is frequently run down and perhaps has been unable to eat properly for weeks. Whether or not this is the case, there are several days following operation when little or now food can be taken.

Recent research has done much to show that this state of affairs can slow the whole process of getting well. In a number of instances following operation, the operative would fails to heal even though it was not infected.

It is thought that such wounds fail to heal simply because there is not sufficient protein material produced to permit the tissues to do the building of new cells required for healing.

When sufficient protein is not present in the body, fluids collect in the tissues, and this in turn may be responsible for the slow emptying of the stomach. Furthermore it has been shown that liver damage after the use of anesthetics is more likely to occur when sufficient protein is not present.

Proteins are made up of substances called amino acids, one of which is known as methienine. This amino acid, particularly, is needed to protect the liver. Thus, if it is found that the patient is suffering from a protein deficiency prior to the operation, the use of a general anesthesia, such as ether, may well be avoided.

Lung infections are more likely to follow operations where protein is lacking.

Since blood is largely made up of protein, one of our best ways of preventing protein deficiency following operation is through blood transfusions or the giving of plasma, the fluid part of the blood by injection into a vein.

When this is done, wounds heal promptly and the other complications mentioned above are corrected.

Today when operation is not on an emergency basis, all doctors will want to build their patients up to a high protein level before operation, through plasma injections and a diet high in protein and low in fat. Where the operation must be done at once, they will follow it closely with adequate injections of plasma or even of amino acids—one of the by operative removal. laboratory's most recent gifts to medicine. Generally, however, the best method seems to be the injection of plasma or whole blood.

When these precautions are taken and protein deficiency prevented, healing is speeded, the patient escapes many hazards, recovers trength more quickly, and feels better during his getting-well period.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

J.M.: Is there any way of getting rid of gallstones?

Answer: I know of no method of eliminating gallstones except by operative removal.

Love's Perilous Path

By ADELE GARRISON

"NO, no, my dear girl," Lillian told Katharine emphatically. "Jack is perfectly all right, and so is the expedition. This is another angle of the thing. The 'Chief' also said that you people all know of the set-up in Transvania with Pietro and Georges—if they are alive—trying to salvage the hidden treasures in the underground chambers of the royal castle before Otto can get his larcenous hands on them."

"Yes, we know all that," Dicky said.

"Well," Lillian said. "I don't know exactly what's cooking, but the 'Chief' is more steamed up than I've seen him in a month of Sundays. He came up to see Harry and me a couple of hours ago, and asked us if we could arrange to shelter a man whose identity must be carefully guarded until he could take care of him at the hideaway. He said there were reasons why he couldn't take him down there now.

"Of course we told him yes," Lillian went on, "and he said he'd arrange for guards around the house from that minute on. Then he told me to come up here and tell you not to be surprised at anything he might have to ask of you in the next few days. He said he wanted you to be prepared for any emergency or for any service. But he specially stressed that under no circumstances must the Philip Veritzens—any of them—know that there was any emergency."

Dicky and I exchanged quick, startled glances. This could only mean—

"Did the 'Chief' give you any clue to the identity of the man you are expected to hide?" Dicky asked. "I suppose he means to have you keep him hidden."

"That's the surest thing you know," Lillian said. "We are to guard him with our lives and our sacred honor; fill in the gaps yourselves. But he didn't let a single hint drop as to the status of the fugitive. He's a man, that's all we know. He may be stripling or an octogenarian."

"Probably somebody in between," Dicky said, and I knew that he was thinking along the same lines my own brain was following.

Lillian looked at him shrewdly. "I see you're indulging in a conjecture," she said. "Better not let the 'Chief' catch you at it!"

"I won't," Dicky assured her. "But theres a thought. Do you think Dad knows the identity of the man himself?"

Lillian patently turned that question over in her mind for a second.

"I can't answer that certainly," she said then; "but my impression is that he does."

"But," she went on slowly, "I'm pretty sure of one thing, that he was unpleasantly surprised at the man's appearance. I never before have seen him when he seemed to be at loose ends about a decision."

There was consternation in the look I turned on Dicky at that. My father undecided! At "loose ends" about anything! The emergency must be grave.

"Did Father give any specific instructions for us?" I asked.

"Only what I told you before," Lillian said. "He gave me to understand that, as soon as he could, he would enlighten both you folks and us poor benighted beggars as to anything further he wished done."

Another Question

Dicky and I digested that in silence. Then he put another question.

"Did Dad give you any idea as to when the man might appear?" he asked.

"He said he might bring him to us at any minute, or it might be hours or even days," she answered.

"H-m" Dicky said. "That probably means that Dad has advance information of the man's coming but does not know for sure from which direction he will appear. And I imagine the fugitive—for the man must be that—is in desperate straits."

"The 'Chief' gave Harry and me that impression," Lillian replied, "but he left so hurriedly that he didn't elaborate on the thesis. The two things on his mind were that you were to be prepared for anything at any time, and that you were not to give any hint to the Philip Veritzens of the emergency."

"Of course that means Mary," I said.

"I don't think he meant Mary specifically." Lillian answered. "But why bother her with the mess when she's getting over an illness?"

"Why indeed?" Dicky anwered.

The telephone punctuated his sentence, and when he answered it I heard him shout: "Harry! You old unprintable! Where have you been keeping yourself? Yes, she's here. I'll call her."

DELICATE YELLOW CAKE . . . With easy caramel icing . . .

By CHARLOTTE ADAMS
Associated Press Food Editor

It's such fun to bake sweet things again, now that all the ingredients are available, isn't it? Because I think the answer is yes, I'd like to give you a couple of new and interesting cakes to try. Here they are:

Delicate Yellow Cake

One-half cup butter or vitaminized margaraine, 1½ tablespoons boiling water, 2⅛ cups sifted flour, 3 teaspoons baking powder, 1 teaspoon salt, 1½ cups sugar, ⅞ cup milk, 1 teaspoon vanilla extract, 2 eggs, Pecan halves.

Place vitaminized margarine in a mixing bowl. Add boiling water and mix well. Sift flour, baking powder, salt and sugar. Add to margarine with milk and vanilla. Beat two minutes by hand or moderate speed on electric mixer. Add eggs and beat two more minutes. Brush baking pan with butter or margaraine and line with waxed paper, also brushed with butter or margaraine. Pour cake batter into pan and bake in moderate over (350 degrees) 35-40 minutes. Remove cake to cooling rack. When cool, frost with Easy Caramel Icing and decorate with pecan halves.

Easy Caramel Icing

Five tablespoons butter or vitaminized margarine, 1 cup brown sugar, firmly packed, ¼ cup milk, 1½ cups confectioners sugar, ¼ teaspoon salt.

Melt butter or margarine in saucepan. Add brown sugar and bring to boil, stirring constantly. Add milk and boil slowly three minutes. Cool thoroughly without stirring. Add confectioners sugar and beat until thick and creamy.

Applesauce Cake

One-half cup shortening, 1 cup sugar, 2 egg yolks, 2 cups flour, 1 cup thick applesauce, ½ teaspoon salt, ½ teaspoon powdered cloves, 1 teaspoon powdered cinnamon, 1 teaspoon soda, ½ cup chopped raisins, ½ cup black walnuts.

Cream shortening and sugar. Add beaten egg yolk. Sift dry ingredients. Add alternately with applesauce to first mixture. Dredge raisins and nuts with flour, and add. Bake in a greased loaf cake pan in 350 degree oven for one hour. Frost with Coffee Boiled Icing.

Coffee Boiled Icing

Two egg whites, 1 cup sugar, ¼ cup boiling water, ¾ cup strong coffee.

Boil sugar and water together until it spins a thread when dropped from the side of a spoon. Beat egg whites very stiff and add the sugar-water syrup to them a tablespoonful at a time, beating thoroughly with each addition. Do this as quickly as possible so that the syrup will not granulate. Beat in coffee at the end.

Co-eds Bounce Bottles Off Head of Intruder

By The United Press

COLUMBUS, Oct. 16 — Mary Jane Koehler, 20, Sandusky, and Gertrude Timm, 20, Toledo, Capital university co-eds, said they bounced bottles off the head of a man who unsuccessfully tried to invade their dormitory early yesterday morning.

The girls said they saw the man about 1 a. m., "crouched down beneath the window, between the building and the bushes trying to hide."

One of them let go with a pop bottle and another with a bottle of ink "and he got out of there plenty fast," Miss Koehler said.

A. T. AND T. REPORTS DIP IN COMPANY EARNINGS

By The United Press

NEW YORK, Oct. 16—American Telephone and Telegraph company did not earn its present dividend of $2.25 per share quarterly in either the three or the 12 months ended Sept. 30, 1947, Walter S. Gifford, president, told stockholders yesterday in reporting that "increases in telepone rates have become necessary."

The number of Bell system telephones, Gifford revealed in his quarterly report, increase by 700,000 in the third 1947 quarter, by 1,850,000 in the first nine months of the current year and by 5,700,000 since the war's end to the current figure of more than 27,500,000. But 1,900,000 people still are waiting for telephone service.

Net income of ATandT for the third quarter of 1947, the report showed, declined to $37,055,000, or $1.75 per share on the average amount of capital stock outstanding during the period, from $47,260,089, or $3.32 a share, in the third quarter of last year. For the 12 months ended Sept. 30, 1947, net income dropped to $170,600,000, or $8.20 a share, from $184,373,579, or $9.10, in the previous 12 months.

MANY NEVER SUSPECT CAUSE OF BACKACHES
This Old Treatment Often Brings Happy Relief
Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys.
The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.
When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.
Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 50 years. Doan's give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

In Plain Words

By James Marlow

BOSTON

THERE was a kind of breathless air around the CIO convention here this week before Secretary of State Marshall talked yesterday.

There's no doubt this CIO convention of 41 unions has been a pretty cut-and-dried, humdrum meeting. Marshall's talk was going to be the highlight.

The breathlessness came from the kind of wondering among the union delegates.

Will Marshall give the CIO convention to make a sharp, and maybe historic break to Russia's theories of American war-mongering?

He didn't. He made some pretty pointed statements about communism, without mentioning communism or Russia by name. But he was not startling.

He repeated some things he has said before but, because they were major things, they could stand repeating.

James Marlow

Stresses Aid Plans

Briefly, he repeated his statements about the need of aid for Europe. He tackled the problem in the two ways in which this country is trying to tackle it.

1. He said Europe needs help to tide it over the winter now coming on.

2. Once this winter is past, Europe will need help extending over years.

Under No. 1 he pointed to this country's present food-saving program as one of the steps necessary to get Europeans through the winter.

Under No. 2 he pointed to his own plan—the Marshall plan—for long-range help for Europe.

(Under the Marshall plan 16 European nations have worked together to draw up a two-fold plan: to help themselves where they can and get the rest of the help they need from this and other countries.

(Congress will have to pass on the Marshall plan—deciding just how much money this country will spend—before any long-range program of help can start.)

But then Secretary Marshall said this:

"xxx the basic issue, as I see it today, is simply whether or not men are to be left free to organize their social, political and economic existence in accordance with their desires; or whether they are to have their lives arranged and dictated for them by small groups of men who have arrogated to themselves xxx arbitrary power."

Communism Is Meant

This, without mentioning communism by name, was his pointed statement about communist tactics.

In Russia the Communist party, numbering perhaps less than 5,000,000 members, controls the country with its population of 190,000,000.

And in any European country where the Communists are in power the actual number of people in the Communist party will be a minority of the population.

For their part, the Communists claim that they are working for the good of the people and will explain dictatorship on the grounds that it is a necessary, but only temporary, thing until a nation is on a sound basis.

Such a thing—dictatorship for any reason—is what Marshall calls trying to make the "end justify the means."

He calls that the greatest of all "human fallacies."

The CIO has a good deal of prestige among European workers. CIO leaders here expressed this belief about Marshall's talk at the convention:

That it would show Europeans the CIO stands behind Marshall and his country's foreign policy.

MT. VERNON MAN DIES

By The Associated Press

MT. VERNON, O., Oct. 16—Building contractor William H. West, 79, father of former undersecretary of the Interior Charles West, died yesterday.

QUITS U. S. POST. Resignation of William L. Clayton as undersecretary of state for economic affairs is accepted by President Truman. The Texan resigned because of the illness of his wife, but will continue to act as a special advisor to the state department.

GREENWOOD P.-T.A. MEETS

Dr. Emily Stogdill from the department of psychology at Ohio State university, was a guest speaker at the first meeting of the year for members of the Greenwood Street P.-T.A. Tuesday night. Her subject was "Emotional Growth of the Child."

Mrs. A. E. Gantt conducted the devotions and for the musical part of the program Mrs. Gerald Jennings played two piano numbers, "Valse," Moszkowski and "Liebestraum," Liszt. A social hour with refreshments was held in the school basement.

TOWN BATTLES FUEL OIL FIRE

Spectacular Blaze Rages Near Business District of Crestline.

Special to The Star

CRESTLINE, Oct. 16—Nearly 30,000 gallons of fuel oil went up in smoke here yesterday when a spectacular fire destroyed three railroad tank cars at the Pennsylvania railroad oil depot in the downtown section.

The fire which broke out at 11:45 a. m. as oil was being pumped from the cars to stationary tanks was brought under control after firemen from Crestline, Galion and Shelby had battled the blazing oil for two hours.

The burning cars were uncoupled from a string of five other cars which were towed out of danger by a fire truck. The string of cars was located on a siding 100 feet from the Pennsylvania main line and near the railroad station.

Thousands of gallons of burning oil erupted from the tank cars and flowed down a drainage ditch along the tracks. A bulldozer hastily shoved earth into the ditch to keep the oil from spreading, as 500 feet from the fire were five 10,000-gallon tanks of high octane gasoline.

Firemen were successful in keeping the flames away from two other tank cars, the depot and the gasoline storage tanks of the Standard Oil company.

Billowing black smoke from the burning oil overhung the community. The heavy pall was visible at Galion more than five miles away.

The Pennsylvania which has division shops at Crestline uses the stationary tanks to store fuel oil for diesel locomotives. Firemen believe a spark from from welding operations being done on the stationary tanks caused the fire. Tank cars destroyed were valued at more than $40,000 each.

GUNSHOT SURVIVOR TESTIFIES AT TRIAL

By The Associated Press

LA GRANGE, Tex., Oct. 16—The prosecution's star witness, a 13-year-old schoolgirl, comes to the stand today in the trial of Dr. Lloyd I. Ross, Harvard-trained San Antonio surgeon charged with murder in the ambush slayings of four people.

The witness is Ann York, survivor of rifle fire that killed her father, mother, brother and grandmother last May 25 as they drove from their ranch home in Comal county to San Antonio for church services.

The 43-year-old doctor was indicted for murder in the death of Willard H. York, 39; York's wife, Gertrude, 43; their son, John, 9, and York's mother, Mrs. Mary York, 67, all of San Antonio.

Ross blamed York, an investment broker, for the loss of his fortune, estimated at thousands of dollars.

The defense counsel bases its case on a plea of insanity.

The trial here opened Monday, but it was not until yesterday that the 12th juror was qualified.

Near her husband, who has followed the proceedings silently but intently, was Mrs. Gladys Ross, the defendant's attractive brunet wife.

Ross, who attended Mt. Union college in Ohio and was an intern in Cleveland and New York City, was born in Dell Roy, O., and he and his wife, an Ohio woman, came to San Antonio 18 years ago.

SOLICITOR FINED

Lorna Terry, 43, of Ada, O., charged with soliciting sales without registering, pleaded guilty in municipal court yesterday and was fined $10 and costs. She was arrested by city police on East Church street at 2:30 p. m. Tuesday.

MEMBERSHIP DRIVE SET BY LEGION POST

membership drive, assisting ... es of the war dead now ... returned from overseas and ... promotion and support of ac... ... of the recently reactivated ... Scout troop, were matters of ... s brought before members ... -McGinnis Post No. 162, ... an Legion, at their meeting ... in the Dugout. John H ... recently installed com... ..., presided.

... on Cunningham, first vice ... t and membership chair... announced a goal of 600 ... by Nov. 11, and asked the support of the members in reaching this quota.

Craig Rogers, county commander, who has been appointed coordinating officer here by the state department of Ohio, explained the procedure being followed in the repatriation of the war dead. All veterans organizations are prepared to assist in the returning of the bodies and to provide any commitment services desired by the families. He said that any information desired by the next of kin would be provided by him or could be obtained from John Schwartz, county service officer, who will assist him in this service.

It was announced that the Legion Troop No 5, Boy Scouts has recently been reactivated with John Runnert as scoutmaster and Francis Layton as assistant scoutmaster. Rex Robinson will serve as liaison officer and the troop committee is composed of Fred F. Miller, chairman, William Warner, E. M. Breithaupt, Dr. L. W. Kohlhorst and Russell Dripps.

Don Marquist, bowling chairman, reported on the team activities. It was announced that Albert R McGowan has been named post service officer.

Following a talk by John Dowler on the forthcoming Community Chest campaign, the post voted to support the drive in a financial way.

The business meeting closed with a period of silence in tribute to the World War II dead whose bodies are now being returned to the United States.

A social hour and lunch was held in the basement.

GREEN CAMP CLASS MEETING

The Out To Win class of the Green Camp Baptist church met Monday evening at the home of Mr and Mrs. Curero Dethl. Devotions were led by Reverend L. R. Kidd. Contests prepared by Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Weston, Miss Helen Hopkins and Floyd Jeffers provided entertainment. Refreshments were then served by the hosts. The next meeting will be held with Mr and Mrs William O Hara Jr. and Reverend and Mrs L. R. Kidd.

HURT IN JERUSALEM. Employed in the American consulate in Jerusalem, Mrs. Ethel Delevy, formerly of Boston, was slightly injured when a bomb was tossed over the wall of the compound. Police attributed the bombing to the Arab underground.

K. OF C. COUNCIL PLANS SPECIAL MEETING OCT. 28

Members of the Marion Council No 671, Knights of Columbus, met Tuesday night in the K. of C. clubrooms and plans were made to have Lawrence Haanen as guest speaker for the Oct. 28 meeting.

A report was given by Floyd Correly, grand knight, on the recent observance of Columbus day by the local council. Monsignor Paul Glenn, rector of St Charles Seminary in Columbus was principal speaker following the communion breakfast.

Reports were also given on the state council meeting held in Columbus recently. Attending the state event from here were Thomas Andrews, state deputy, Joseph Dunn, district deputy, Mr Cornely, grand knight; Charles Gallaher, trustee; Robert Murphy, financial secretary; Maurice Tobin and John Nicodem.

Members were urged to attend the Holy Name society rally to be held at the Red Bird stadium in Columbus Oct. 26. Taking part in the event will be members of the society from all parts of the Columbus diocese as well as children from the Columbus Catholic schools.

SOME CITIES SEE BROWNOUT

Fear of Power Shortage Expressed if Winter Luck Runs Out.

By The Associated Press

Few sections of the nation expect an electric power "brownout" this winter, but many fear its possible, if luck runs out.

Some cities already are curtailing power service to new industries. Others are preparing to "stretch" facilities by staggering loads and borrowing from each other.

Most sections, with uncomfortably skimpy margins of reserve generating capacity above peak loads admit their reliance on luck—plenty of rain to feed power dams, and no equipment breakdown.

A section-by-section survey by The Associated Press reveals power shortages already plague Eastern Pennsylvania, northern California, central Arizona and parts of Florida.

The winter's peak load of demand is going to mean "a tight squeeze" in the Pacific northwest, eastern Pennsylvania, Iowa, upper Michigan and industrial sections of New England.

Things look well, "barring emergencies", in Minnesota, Indiana, Ohio, Illinois, lower Michigan, Missouri and the Gulf states.

Danger spots in the midwest are the West Virginia-Ohio-Pennsylvania industrial triangle, parts of Iowa and upper Michigan and isolated communities throughout the midwest that are not tied-in with the big power pools.

See No Scarcity

Minnesota, Indiana, most of Ohio and the industrial areas of Michigan see no scarcity, barring emergencies. Wisconsin and Illinois feel their reserves are adequate.

Indiana electric power men, "barring emergencies, or temporary plant troubles", anticipate no brownouts or rationing of electricity this winter.

Ohio's public utilities commission says peak loads come too close to actual capacity for comfort and few companies can handle much new business, but there should be no actual shortage this winter.

The bulk of Ohio's power is produced by coal and most companies have large stockpiles. Also, the power grid extending from Chicago to Louisville gives any company running short the chance to borrow through interconnections with other companies.

MOTHERS CIRCLE MEETS

At a meeting of the Mothers' club, Circle No. 5 of Wesley Methodist church Monday night, a nominating committee was appointed and other business was conducted in charge of Mrs. Lucile Haines, president. The meeting was held in the home of Mrs. Emma Ginger on Park boulevard. Mrs. Della Davis presented opening Scripture and Mrs. Gardner sang a solo, followed by the Lord's prayer in unison. Plans were made for a luncheon Oct. 22. Named on the nominating committee were Mrs. Ruth Noble, Mrs. Mary Evans and Mrs. Gladys Mason. Mrs. Mary Maines was named chairman for a bazaar to be held at the church in December. Contests were won by Mrs. Hazel Evans and Mrs. Gladys Delmore. Mrs. Mary Evans assisted in serving. Guests included Mrs. Gillespie and Dr. and Mrs. E. A. Brown.

The commanding general of the U. S. Army's Puerto Rican department lives in a house that was built for Ponce de Leon in 1523.

Prexies Geared for Findlay But Howison Sees No Snap

Harding gridders leave for Findlay tomorrow night for a crack at win and maybe shutout number five.

Despite the three-touchdown margin Harding rates over Findlay on a basis of comparative scores with Lima South, Prexy Coach Pete Howison doesn't see Findlay wrapped up and ready for delivery to the President grid machine.

Coach Howison pointed to the Findlay-Harding game last year. Findlay had lost their opening three games, but turned on the Presidents to win, 13-6. Harding hasn't beaten the Findlay Trojans for a number of years, he said.

Should Break Jinx

Nevertheless, the Presidents should be ready to break the Trojan jinx. Their offense has marked up an average 247 yards gained per game while holding their opponents to an average 136 yards. They have shutout their last four opponents while running up a total of 90 points.

The picture for Findlay is black. They have lost four straight —to Lima South, Bowling Green, Fremont Ross, and Lima Central. They scraped out a 7-0 win over Dayton Stivers in their opener. The Trojans have scored 43 points to their opponents' 129.

Only two injuries have appeared in the Harding ranks to date. Jack Hoffman is still nursing a shoulder he bruised in the Harding-Uhrichsville game, but he'll probably start against the Trojans. Gene Peadon has been troubled with charley-horses this week, but he'll probably start too. Hoffman plays right tackle and Peadon left end. Both boys have been working out with the squad in practice sessions but have taken it easy in scrimmage.

Other Starters

Other President linemen, end Jack Bishop, guards Paul Menzer, DeWitt Corwin and Lloyd "Punk" Williams, center Bob Short, and tackle Bob Ralston, will be raring to throw up a bulwark against the Trojans. Punk Williams and Bob Ralston, incidentally, were in on the recovered fumble that set up the Presidents' second score in the Lima South game Friday, that was earlier attributed solely to Merle Daum.

Prexy backs, Jim Coss, Clarence Smith, Dick Gherman, Jim Hill, Dick Huddle and Dick Leffler will probably see a lot of action against the Trojans tomorrow night.

WINS PACING MATCH

By The Associated Press

AURORA, Ill., Oct. 16—In a blazing photo finish, Gratton McKlyo, Omaha, Neb., horse owned by Ben Owens, edged out Purdue Hal and Charming Scot in the mile-and-a-sixteenth pace which featured the grand circuit racing at Aurora Downs track last night. Time was 2:13 2/5.

WINS OHIO GOLF CROWN

By The Associated Press

DAYTON, O., Oct. 16—Smiling Al Marchi, the mustachioed, unattached Columbus pro, wore the Ohio open golf crown today.

ANGELS TO BE HOSTS TO DAYTON SATURDAY

Marion Will Meet Rockets in Stadium at 8.

Marion Safety Cab Angels will play their third home game Saturday night when they meet the Dayton Rockets at Harding stadium. Game time is 8 p. m.

The Cabbies will be without the services of right halfback Harold Hodges, who broke his wrist in the Angel-Lockland game last Sunday, and tackle Bill Fate, who sustained a leg injury in the game, says Coach Gene Fetter.

Hodges will be out of the Angel lineup for the rest of the season, but Fate may be ready to go in a week.

Last year the Angels fell to the Rockets, 6-0.

The Angels will be trying to snap a two-game losing streak. They lost to Lockland Legion last week, 20-0, and dropped a close one to the Indianapolis All-Stars, 7-2, the week before. The Cabbies won from Columbus Hilltop, 18-0, Worthington Independents, 6-0, and the Mendon Red Jackets, 32-0.

Coach Fetter listed his probable starting lineup as ends, Roseberry and Gilmore, tackles, Lust and McKnight, guards, Obernour and Lewis, center, Keller, quarterback, Simmons, halfbacks, Ivey and Reams, and fullback, Scott.

Repairs on Players May Be Key To 1948 Pennant Races

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Writer

NEW YORK, Oct. 16—Major repairs on many of baseball's highest-priced players, recently completed or scheduled for the near future, probably will have more influence on the 1948 pennant races than any trades that will be made all winter.

Stan Musial, bothered by an inflamed appendix, was below par during the early months of the 1947 season, seriously hampering the St. Louis Cardinals' chances of repeating.

Although Musial resumed playing after a brief layoff following his attack in New York, it was recognized that he would not be right until he underwent an appendectomy at the end of the season.

George (Red) Munger, strong armed righthander, was handicapped by the same trouble although he was a key winner for the Cards in their September drive.

Undergo Operations

Both Musial and Munger underwent appendectomies yesterday and were reported "doing fine" by Dr. Robert F. Hyland, club surgeon in St. Louis.

Spud Chandler of the New York Yankees, who was lost to the club since mid season with a sore arm, was operated on Monday for removal of cartilage and bone chips from his right elbow.

Even without Chandler the Yanks were able to walk away with the American league pennant this year but Manager Bucky Harris knows his return to pre-July form is a must if the Yanks are to repeat. Despite his age, Chandler at 38 is a most important member of the Yankee staff, even if it's only for spot duty.

Tex Hughson of the Boston Red Sox reportedly underwent an operation on his ailing right arm Sept. 8. The ace Boston Red Sox pitcher's aches severely handicapped the club in the long pennant race. A sound Hughson, to act as a "stopper" for his staff, could make all the difference to new manager Joe McCarthy in his drive to unseat the Yanks.

Mickey Harris, another sox pitcher, also was troubled by a sore arm all season. He was practically useless.

Cooper Seen Winning 20

Mort Cooper of the New York Giants was operated on late in the season with such good results that his brother Walker Cooper predicts he will be a 20-game winner next season.

Hank Greenberg, released during the World Series by Pittsburgh, is contemplating an operation on his right arm for removal of bone chips. Hank hasn't made up his mind yet as to when and where it will be done. It depends on his baseball future.

Frank Gustine of Pittsburgh, a mid-season hitting sensation, was operated on for correction of a double hernia earlier this week and Ferris Fain, the Philadelphia A's first baseman, is said to be planning on surgery to fix up his "trick knee."

Even Joe DiMaggio of the Yanks may be under the knife again. There have been reports that such a move was in the wind and the Yanks have promised to reveal their winter plans for Joe next week. If an operation is necessary, one thing is certain. Joe won't wait until January or February like he did last season when he missed the opener with a bandaged heel.

BUCKS TAPER OFF IN IOWA PREPARATION

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 16—Ohio State's Buckeyes tapered off today in preparation for Saturday's Western Conference clash with Iowa's Hawkeyes.

Coach Wes Fesler planned dummy scrimmage and plenty of running today and tomorrow after the bruising scrimmage sessions held this week.

Ollie Cline, the Fredericktown flier, limped out of yesterday's heavy drill after again injuring the knee he hurt last Saturday against Southern California. However, he was expected to be ready for Iowa.

In heavy workouts this week the Buckeye coaching staff tried to plug holes discovered in losses to Purdue and Southern California.

Yesterday, Dick Slager and Pandel Savic warmed their pitching arms while Rod Swinehart and Bob Brugge worked on the receiving end of an intensified aerial attack. Iowa's Al Demarco and Johnny Estes are expected to provide aerial fireworks and the Bucks plan to answer in kind.

Fesler was uncertain how long left halfbacks Swinehart and Brugge would remain in the game since both have been out with injuries; Swinehart with a rib injury and Brugge with a pulled thigh muscle.

The Buckeye mentor expressed confidence the Scarlet and Gray squad would provide a "very interesting afternoon" for the Hawkeyes.

H. Wade Kraner, assistant director for ticket sales, said pregame sales indicate a 76,000 crowd for Saturday, although all seats still are not sold.

YANK SERIES SHARE COMES TO $5,830.03

By The Associated Press

CINCINNATI, Oct. 166—Walter Mulbry, secretary-treasurer of baseball, announced yesterday that each full share of World Series money for the world champion New York Yankees was $5,830.03, and $4,081.18 for the defeated Brooklyn Dodgers.

Twenty-seven Yankees received full shares, six were voted $4,372.52; four got $2,915.02; five got $1,457.51 each, one got $1,500; and six others were given smaller amounts.

Thirty-two full shares were voted by the Dodgers, two got $2,040.59; one got $1,000, one $500; six $300 each and one $250.

Full shares for St. Louis, which finished second in the National league, amounted to $1,175.42 and for Detroit, runner-up in the American loop it was $1,165.90.

The Boston Braves' full share for third place in the National league was $749.99, while it was $715.02 for Boston in the American circuit.

The fourth place Cleveland club's full shares amounted to $391.81, while for New York in the National league it was $342.83.

Zaharias, Berg, Jameson Lead in Golf Tournament

By The Associated Press

FORT SMITH, Ark., Oct. 16—Mildred Zaharias of Denver, Patty Berg of Minneapolis and Betty Jameson of San Antonio led in that order as nine entrants started today on the second 36 holes of medal play in the Hardscrabble Country club women's open golf tournament.

Mrs. Zaharias' total after 18-hole rounds Tuesday and yesterday was 150. The other two followed with 151 and 152, respectively.

Yesterday's medal scores and total included:

Peggy Kirk, Findlay, O., 74-154.

Carol Diringer, Tiffin, O., 80-157.

St. Mary Guns for Repeat Of Last Year's Upset Wi

When the Fighting Irish played Columbus St. Mary last they met a team with five straight wins and scored a major u by beating them, 12-7.

Tomorrow night the Irish will again tackle their sister sc in Columbus and again they'll meet a fair-sized opponent even though Columbus St. Mary doesn't boast a string of five this year. They've won two, tied one, and lost one.

The Columbus squad had an open date last week and consequently will have an extra week of rest when they face the Irish at Red Bird stadium tomorrow night.

Feel Marysville Bruises

The Irish, on the other hand, still feel the bruises meted out by Marysville in last Friday's grueling battle with the Monarchs which the Irish won, 19-14.

"We'll do all right against Columbus if the tape holds out," said Irish Coach Gene Fetter.

The injury-riddled and reserve-light Irish have been skimping on scrimmage this week in order to meet the Columbus squad with as strong an outfit as possible. Bob Stuber will be out of football for the rest of the season because of the dislocated collar bone and bruised shoulder he sustained at Marysville and John Baldauf will have to take it easy because of a trick knee which has been bothering him throughout the season.

Coach Fetter said he'd probably start Bob Cusick in Stuber's at right halfback.

Columbus Record

Columbus St. Mary beat Portsmouth East in their opener, tied Columbus Linden, 0-0, to Springfield Catholic Cen 19-0, and came back the week to shutout Holy Far 19-0. Their tie game with lumbus Linden puts them class with Akron Garfield Chillicothe, whom Linden tied this year.

Marion St. Mary has a impressive record with four and a loss, but Irish Coach Fetter isn't counting on the re for a win tomorrow.

The Irish have won from D ware, 13-0, Carey, 18-7, T Calvert, 25-6, and Marysville, 14 and lost to Lima St. 19-0. The passing arm of Li John Mulcahy which prove disastrous to the locals in t single loss, incidentally, was aside in the St. Rose-Fostoria Wendelin game last Friday Mulcahy made four touchdo on long runs and booted a co of conversions to take St. W delin, 48-13.

JR. TEAMS TO PLAY AT BUCYRUS, GALION

Central and Vernon Junior High schools are scheduled to play football games out of town tonight. Central goes to Bucyrus and Vernon to Galion. Both are Tri-City league games.

Central leads the league with one win and one tie. Bucyrus has one league loss to date.

Vernon will try to earn their initial league victory. They have lost two, while Galion has one league win.

John Luginbuhl, Central coach, will probably start the lineup that fought Edison to a 6-6 standstill Monday night: ends, Bascos and Shrader, tackles, Slob and Geran, guards, Landurs and Zahn, center, Daum, quarterback Winters, halfbacks, Day and Knisley, and fullback, Russell.

Vernon Coach Darl Gatchell will probably start ends, Lewis and Bosh, tackles, Jaggers and Hart, guards, Geer and Eddy, center, M. Smith, quarterback, Reeves, halfbacks, Luke and Severns, and fullback, R. Smith.

Caledonia Schedules Year's Last Grid Tilt

Undefeated but once-tied Caledonia High school will play the last football game of the season Friday afternoon when they entertain Prospect. Game time is 3 p. m.

As has been the custom at Caledonia, all the seniors will play in the game, since it is the last.

SPANISH WAR VETERANS HOLD KENTON REUNION

Spanish War veterans in Marion joined others who served in the Second Ohio infantry for the thirty-ninth annual reunion held Tuesday in the Eagles' hall at Kenton. More than 200 veterans were registered for the one-day meeting.

Attending from Marion were Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Schultz, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Morrison, Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Bondley, Mrs. Dolly Anthony, Mrs. Mabel Polan and Franklin B. Scott. Present also were Judge S. Mathias, Department Commander George Walsh, Department Adjutant George Rakestraw, Department Quartermaster Joseph Korns of Columbus and General Gasser of Tiffin.

David A. Liggitt of Belle Center, secretary of the reunion association, reported that of the 1,355 men in the Second Ohio infantry, 575 are still known to be living, 553 are known to be dead and there is no record of 127.

DR. VERSTEEG AT HARPSTER

At morning worship of churches of the Harpster Methodist charge Sunday, Dr. John M. Versteeg, Lima district superintendent, will preach. At the Little Sandusky church he will be heard at 9:30 and at Harpster at 10:30. There will be no preaching service at the Wyandot church, Rev. Fred Ross, pastor, announced.

STUDENT FIELD DAY MONDAY

High School Pupils To Attend Demonstration on Kreis Farm.

A second conservation field day for Marion county high school seniors is to be held next Monday at the Victor Kreis farm in Richland township, it was announced today by D. T. Mills, county school superintendent.

The field day for the purpose of studying conservation problems on the land is again sponsored by the Marion county soil conservation district. Last May a similar field day was held on the Kreis farm and met with such enthusiasm that it was decided to hold another this year; this time earlier in the year.

During the day, which starts at 10 a. m., the 200 students will be divided into seven groups and will be instructed as follows: woodland and wild life conservation, Roy Roller, from Mt. Gilead of the headwater soil conservation district; establishing and using pastures and meadows, Earl Jones extension agronomy specialist from Ohio State university; the farm plan, covering the soil, crops and the farm layout, W. L. Williams, farm planner of the Marion county district; "The Amount Feed Raised and the Livestock to be Carried on the Kreis Farm" will be discussed by Charles Phillips of the Union Soil conservation district, Marysville; "The Application of Conservation Practices" will be demonstrated by John Baker of the Divide soil conservation district, Bucyrus; "Conservation of Residue and Fertility" will be led by John Slipher, Extension Soil conservationist, Ohio State university.

Myron Smith, soil scientist of Mt. Gilead, will instruct the seniors on "Soil Types and Their Origins."

Before the noon luncheon period, Miss Mary Faye McMillan, Marion county home demonstration agent, will discuss "Conservation and Home Nutrition" before the assembled group. Immediately following lunch, Lloyd E. Lutz, associate county extension agent of Marion county, will talk to the entire group on "Rural Youth Education." At 2:15 p. m. the entire group will reassemble and hear a short discussion on "Conservation Through Safety" before leaving the Kreis farm.

In arranging for this conservation field day, the Marion county soil conservation district supervisors are cooperating with D. T. Mills, county superintendent of schools, Marion county school superintendents, Victor H. Kreis, farm owner, U. S. soil conservation service and the agricultural extension service. An alternate date of Monday, Oct. 27, has been selected in the event of bad weather on the next Monday.

...am grounds. The small lake ... the sanatorium was searched ...tially by deputies in boats. ...ly six feet deep, officials were ... to peer to the bottom with-... difficulty as the day was ...nt and water clear. Nothing ...s found.

H. W. Palm deeply concerned ...bout his mother after three days ...e elapsed and no word of her ...whereabouts, expressed the hope ...that someone may be caring for ...er. According to Dr. Sawyer ...Mrs Palm is more confused than ...mentally disturbed.

It is believed that when she ...left the sanatorium, she carried ...no means of identification. She is ...feet 11 inches tall, weighs 90 ...pounds and has gray hair. She ...was wearing a light blue dress ...with dark blue patterns, tan hose ...and black shoes. She wears ...glasses and may have worn a ...brown sweater.

Mrs. Palm in addition to her ...two sons has a daughter, Mrs. G. ...Vinson of Mt. Gilead. It was ...thought she may have attempted ...to go there. Her farm home is ...much further away being located ...about two miles from Lexington ...on Route 97 between Lexington ...and Bellville.

Authorities in New Lexington, ...Ohio and Lexington, Ky., have been ...notified as the Palms believe that ...their mother might have been ...given a ride by a passing motorist ...and not made her destination ...clear.

Wallace Aide Must Pay $50,000 in Heart Balm

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Oct 15 — A federal district court jury has decided that Richard Hippelheuser, who was a special assistant to former Secretary of Commerce Henry A Wallace, must pay $50,000 for alienating the affections of another man's wife, now divorced.

After an hour's deliberations, the jury decided Hippelheuser should pay the amount to Carl Dawson Smith 3rd, 35-year-old lawyer Smith was awarded $25,000 compensatory damages and $25,000 punitive damages

It was one of the largest awards ever made here in a heart balm action Smith had asked for $100,000

Hippelheuser previously had been named corespondent in Smith's divorce action, which he won last fall At that time the lawyer was awarded custody of the couple's four-year-old son.

Discuss Formation Of Historical Society

Special to The Star

DELAWARE, Oct. 16—Formation of a Delaware County Historical society was contemplated Sunday by a group of Delaware county residents meeting at Marlborough church near Norton

A tentative organization plan calls for a governing board with each township in the county represented in the membership

Judge Fred R. Wickham of Delaware and John N Snook of Delaware, formerly associated with the Ohio State Archeological Museum in Columbus, outlined state statutes regulating historical societies and making county funds available for their support

A general county meeting for further discussion was called for Oct 20 Election of officers and adoption of a constitution is scheduled for next week's meeting

It took Abraham Lincoln only two minutes and 15 seconds to deliver the Gettysburg address
